FORD'S WAR ON JEWS OUTLINED TO LIBEL JURY

Base Sapiro's Case on Plot Charges.

Ford Wins a Point

Detroit, Mich., March 16.—[Special.]—Henry Ford's personal views in regard to the Jews may be barred as a factor in the Sapiro libel suit. Judge Raymond, on objection of Ford's counsel, several times today ruled that counsel for Sapiro should not raise that issue in his opening statement of the case.

This ruling indicates that the judge will hold the Sapiro forces' case to the articles printed in the Dearborn Independent and will prevent cross-examination of Ford on his personal opinions toward the Jews.

Detroit, Mich., March 16.—[Special.]—A colored picture painted by Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent of a Jewish combination reaching its tentacles into the pockets of the farmer and world affairs was shown today by William Henry Gallagher, counsel for Aaron Sapiro, who is suing the automobile manufacturer for $1,000,000 on charges of libel.

One by one he took up the charges which his client claims injured his reputation as an organizer or cooperative marketing associations, and when counsel Sapiro had still several points to bring out in his opening statement.

Keep Nothing of World Plot.

If a world-wide conspiracy of Jews existed, Aaron Sapiro knew nothing about it, Gallagher declared; neither was he a member of a ring spreading communism or bolshevism throughout the country, instilling the ideas of Red Russia in the minds of the children, Sapiro had never been concerned with organization of farm boys and girls clubs, having confined his activities to cooperative marketing associations, he said.

"As to charges contained in the Independent regarding a so-called Kahn-Barnack-Lasker-Rosenwald-Sapiro program to turn over to an organized international interest the entire agricultural industry of the country," said Mr. Gallagher, "they are entirely unfounded, evidence will show."

Barnack Made a Few Loans.

"Kahn, it is true, made a few contributions to farmers' organizations, as did other high minded citizens, such as Robert W. Bingham of the Louisville Courier-Journal and William Randolph Hearst, Bernard Baruch, I believe, made a few loans, but no contributions, while A. D. Lasker, as head of an advertising concern, handled some publicity for a cooperative concern, Julius Rosenwald had nothing to do with them."

"We will show that this whole idea of organized Jewry to take advantage of the American farmer is a product of the mind and the statement that Sapiro was backed by a Jewish combination in his organization work is entirely without foundation."

Trial May Last 60 Days.

Judging by the time taken by Mr. Gallagher, who began his opening plea yesterday to outline what the plaintiffs intend to prove, attorneys for both sides agreed that the trial probably would last sixty days. His declaration contains 141 points on which evidence will be introduced.

Attorney Gallagher told the jury that Ford and the business manager of the Independent had been informed of a committee of the intentions and workings of the cooperative marketing organizations formed by Sapiro. Publication of a series of alleged libelous articles then ceased for a while, he said, but were soon resumed. The articles accused the Chicago man of exploiting the farmers and with spreading communistic propaganda.

Cooperative organizations of all kinds in Oregon, Kentucky, Texas, California, and the old south which Sapiro had helped form were mentioned in excerpts from the Dearborn Independent, which Mr. Gallagher read. All the charges would be shown to evidence to be without foundation, he declared.

Plot to Sovietize U. S. Charged.

One of the passages which the attorney read, said: "Between the lines was made the story of the Jewish conspiracy movement in America, which seeks to make of these United States what it already has made of Russia."

Continuing, the attorney explained, that Sapiro and the alleged Jewish conspiracy sought to duplicate in the United States the political conditions in Russia.

The passage continued: "It bears continued on page 12, column 3."

OIL MILLIONAIRE AMAZED; JAIL TERM POSSIBLE

Attorneys Seeking New Trial.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil operator, charged with contempt of the senate during the Teapot Dome oil scandal investigation three years ago, was found guilty by a District Supreme court jury shortly after 10 o'clock tonight.

Found guilty on all four counts of the indictments against him, Sinclair faces a jail sentence of from one month to a year in the District jail and a fine of from $100 to $1,000.

Sentence Delayed for Appeal.

The sentence will not be imposed, however, pending the disposition of the motion for a new trial made by Sinclair's counsel immediately after the jury's verdict was announced, and its execution will be further delayed by the appeal which will be taken to the District Court of Appeals, and ultimately to the United States Supreme court, according to defense attorneys, if the new trial is denied.

Sinclair's bail, fixed at $5,000 when he was arraigned, was continued until the new trial is disposed of.

Dumbofounded at Verdict.

Sinclair, who maintained, up until the jury filed into the courtroom after about eight hours' deliberation, that he would be acquitted, was obviously dumfounded at the unexpected verdict, but rallied quickly and turned to grasp the hand of his chief counsel, Martin W. Littleton of New York.

"Which the first inning is over," he said to Littleton, shrugging his shoulders and laughing at the group of friends who crowded past the rail to sympathize with him.

The verdict, when it finally came, was as much a surprise to the government counsel, District Attorney Peyton Gordon and Alton Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, special government attorneys named to prosecute suits to invalidate the Sinclair and Doheny naval oil reserve leases, as it was to Sinclair.

Statute May Hit Insult.

Sinclair, whose contempt trial is the first of the criminal proceedings growing out of the oil investigation to be decided, was indicted under section 102 of the revised statutes, the same section which will be invoked against Samuel Insull, the Chicago utility magnate; his attorney, Daniel Schuyler of Chicago, and other witnesses who refused to testify before the Reed slush fund committee, if they are ever brought to book.

Sinclair, refusing to answer the committee's questions on the advice of his counsel, denied the pertinency of the queries, asserted that answer might jeopardize the outcome of litigation in which his company—the Mammoth Oil company—was engaged with the government and denied the authority of the committee to question him on matters which had become the subject of litigation.

Disquieting Jury Instructions.

Justice Hitz in his charge warned the jury that the pertinency of the questions had already been decided by the court as a matter of law and that neither the fact that Sinclair, in refusing to testify, acted on the advice of counsel or may have believed he had a legal right to refuse if he wished, could be considered as a defense for the oil man.

"It is possible," said the justice, "for a man to follow the advice of learned counsel and land in jail just as it is possible for a man to follow the advice of learned physicians and land in a cemetery."

PLAN TURNABLE HOUSE TO SWING WITH THE SUN

PARIS, March 15.—[Special.]—A house on a turntable, to follow the sun in a model exhibited at Nice shows a villa mounted on a modified railroad turntable with an electric motor to enable the occupants to turn the house about at will. A strong pivot is designed to resist wind pressure. The original model provides for a $50,000 house, with the turntable feature costing $5,000, but cheaper designs are predicted, with the turntable costing only about $500.

COOLER TODAY IS FORECAST AFTER SUMMER'S VISIT

Cooler weather and a partly overcast sky today will take the place of the almost midsummer temperature and sunshine of yesterday, according to the official forecast. Both today and tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a drop in the temperature will bring the Chicago mercury down to some where near normal for this season, it was predicted.

The real summer weather that visited Chicago far ahead of season yesterday set a new city warmth record for March 16 when the mercury rose to 71 degrees between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Although on March 26, 1910, thermometers registered 80.4 degrees here, there has never been so warm a day on March 16 since the government founded the Chicago weather bureau, in 1873, records showed.

A. J. EARLING AND MILWAUKEE GIRL ELOPE, WED HERE

Albert J. Earling, 22, grandson of the late Albert J. Earling, former president of the Chicago and Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, and Miss Marjorie Downing, 23, both prominent in the Milwaukee society, eloped yesterday to Waunakee and got a marriage license at the office of the County clerk. Last night they were registered at the Blackstone hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Earling.

Although the record of the marriage license and the hotel register stood as evidence of the marriage ceremony, the bride and groom refused to be interviewed or to admit that the ceremony had been performed, or where.

Earling's parents are at present in Florida. Miss Downing is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Downing, who could not be reached last night.

Paint Co. Official Wins $35,000 Damages from R.R.

As recompense for injuries which will cause him to have a stiff neck for the rest of his life, R. W. Levenhagen, vice president of the Glidden Paint company, was awarded $35,000 damages by a jury in Judge David M. Brothman's court yesterday. The verdict was awarded against the Chicago and Alton railroad. Mr. Levenhagen charged that while sleeping in a berth on a train there was a collision and he was injured permanently.

Ice Breaker Begins Work in Port Arthur Harbor

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., March 15.—[Special.]—The ice breaker tug James Whalen began operations in the harbor today, the earliest on record.

Six Burned in Auto Crash as Gas Explodes

Explosion of the gasoline tank on an overturned automobile in which they were entangled last night sent three men and three girls to the Oak Park hospital badly cut, bruised, and burned, two of them—a man and a girl—so seriously that physicians did not expect them to live.

Two Seriously Hurt.

Lorraine Casey, living in the vicinity of Grand and Chicago avenues, and Nathan Zopolski, 2722 Crystal street, were the two most seriously burned.

Others in the car were Helen McCormick, 653 North Ridgeway avenue; Catherine Lajerus, 3422 Le Moyne street; Arthur Klever, owner and driver of the car, 1648 North Spaulding avenue; and William Miller, 1714 North Kimball avenue.

The car in which the six were riding was completely demolished by the flames after the victims had been dragged from the wreckage by County Highway Policemen William Mander-nack and Walter Betz. The three girls were rushed to the hospital by Policemen Walsh of the Chicago force, who passed in another car.

Four Deaths in Day.

Four deaths yesterday as a result of other auto accidents in Cook county raised the 1927 toll to 168.

Walter Surcum, 2 years old, 2041 Washburn avenue, was permitted to play on the sidewalk and the yard in front of his home yesterday for the first time because of the warm weather. The child crawled over the curb into the street and was crushed to death by a truck driven by James Murphy, 2539 West 17th street. Murphy was held by the Marquette police.

Another child, Boleslaus Glusicki, 8 years old, 1434 Garfield boulevard, ran into the street at Southport and City-bourne avenues and was killed by a truck driven by Fred Eckel, 4721 Wrightwood avenue, who was arrested. Mrs. Carmen Adducci, 76 years old, died with his wife, who survives.

back to the bullpen Mrs. Croarkin came in for a moment.

She cried, and he smiled and said, "O mother, I don't want to go to jail."

But by the time he had got back to Warden Fogarty's office in the county jail the prisoner seemed considerably relieved that he was going to prison instead of to the gallows.

"Gee, that was a surprise!" he repeated.

"What did you expect?" somebody asked him.

"Well, I hardly know what I did expect. Chester? Well, maybe, from what they all said."

Then they asked him if he was crazy.

Doesn't Think He's Crazy.

"No, I don't think I was crazy," he answered promptly. "But when all those lawyers got to talking it makes a fellow think he's crazy."

Then, explaining once more his pleasure at going to Joliet rather than to Chester, he said, "It's much nearer for my family to come to visit."

Fearful that the dead boy's father might elect to take a personal vengeance on the man who killed his son, policemen sat watchfully near him as the verdict was read.

But Mr. Schmidt was partly satisfied. "I still believe that Croarkin should be hanged for what he did," he said. "In a way I am satisfied—he will spend a long time in the penitentiary and he may in the end suffer more by this verdict."

Then he went to the jury box, shook hands with each of the twelve and thanked them for himself and his wife. In addition to the verdict which the jury rendered and to the other two over which they fought to get the third, the twelve had these four possibilities:

1. Same when he murdered, insane now. This would send him to Chester. But if he were subsequently judged sane he would have to pay the penalty a sane man, found guilty of murder, has to pay.
2. Insane when he murdered, now recovered. This would put him on the street, a free man for all time.
3. Sane then and now, penitentiary sentence for a term not less than 15 years.
4. Not guilty.

Make Final Arguments.

But it was none of these nor was it life imprisonment which yesterday engaged the attention of attorneys in their closing arguments.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in charge of the prosecution, talked for four hours yesterday afternoon, simply, quietly, challengingly, to show the jurors why they should give Croarkin the death sentence. The defense theory of dementia praecox, shut-in personality, irresponsibility, failed grotesquely. Prosecutor Crowe declared by its very diffuseness. One defense lawyer had one theory, he argued; another defense lawyer had an opposing theory.

"It is not," the state's attorney asserted, "a split personality of the defendant; it is a split personality of the defense, that we have seen."

Cites Defense Differences.

"One defense alienist says that Croarkin was a victim of dementia praecox since his birth 26 years ago; another defense alienist claims that this mental deterioration set in just last fall. One defense attorney tells you that this case is so involved that no twelve jurors can fathom its intricacies, and it should be decided by expert psychiatrists. Another defense attorney would persuade you that it is so simple a case that no doctor is needed; that any twelve men could tell that Croarkin is insane."

The theory of the defense, as Mr. Crowe outlined it, is this: No intentional lying on the part of the experts. But an aggregation of tiny exaggerations and wrongly placed emphasis, each advanced individually by a relative or friend of the man whose life each is trying to save. These small exaggerations, all pertaining to Croarkin's personality and characteristics, are heaped together in one hypothesis. And upon this hypothesis the defense alienists based their decision that the defendant is insane.

Tears Up Defense Theories.

Where the defense built up State's Attorney Crowe separated. One by one he isolated the symptoms which the defense had pieced together.

"They say that Hallie, as they call him, always used to sit next his father at the table. Since when has that been an excuse for murder?"

"They say that he splashed water

COUNCIL SEEKS LAW BARRING INSANITY PLEA IN MURDER CASES

A bill to amend the Illinois criminal code so that a plea of insanity cannot be a defense in the trial of a person charged with a crime of violence will be presented to the state legislature by the city council.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution instructing Corporation Counsel Busch to prepare such a bill immediately. Ald. Donald S. McKinley (19) introduced the resolution.

"The plea of insanity is now being resorted to on behalf of defendants charged with revolting crimes to such an extent that it has become a serious obstacle to the trial and punishment of those guilty of such crimes," it asserted.

"Those who originally made our criminal laws never contemplated or foresaw that this plea would be made use of in nearly every murder case placed on trial."

MORONS ATTACK GIRL ON STREET, MOTHER IN HOME

Both Victims Beat Off Their Assaults.

Morons who boldly attempted to attack their prospective victims in broad daylight were the objects of a search last night by the police in the widely separated Lawndale and North Robey street districts.

One degenerate, a Negro, invaded a young mother's home and viciously fought her from room to room while her 8 year old crippled son looked on screaming with terror. Another man boldly seized a 14 year old girl as she passed a southwest side alley in the afternoon, dragged her a dozen feet, and attempted to attack her as he tried to stifle her screams with a cloth saturated with chloroform.

Both Forced to Flee.

In each case the victim fought so hard and screamed so hard that the morons were beaten off, help arrived, and they were forced to flee.

Mrs. Irene Farson, 31 years old, of 205 F. Montrose avenue, mother of three young children, worked for a time in the front part of her flat on the first floor. When Mrs. Farson went into the kitchen she found herself confronted by a Negro.

She screamed and grappled with him. They fought from the kitchen into the dining room, from there past a couch on which the crippled boy, Richard, lay in a front room.

Screams Bring Help.

Mrs. Farson and the boy kept screaming. Their screams were heard by Mrs. Farson's sister-in-law, Mrs. Lillian Rae, upstairs, and as Mrs. Rae rushed into the back door the Negro fled.

The other near victim was 14 year old Antoinette Cucero, of 1528 South Kilbourn avenue. She was seized by her assailant at an alley near 18th street and Kostner avenue. Her screams brought neighbors, who chased the moron for several blocks.

Leo Bulski, 44 years old, 129 South Sangamon street, an alleged moron, was arrested after he had attempted to drag Mrs. Helen Bamford, 307 South Paulina street, into a building at Monroe and Throop streets and attack her. Her screams brought Policemen Harry Wernitz and they seized Bulski.

Virgil Smith, 26, of 164 North Waller avenue, was sentenced to ten years imprisonment yesterday by a jury in Judge Philip L. Sullivan's court, which found him guilty of a criminal attack upon an 18 year old girl.

It was on his first appearance in court, two weeks ago, that the defendant's wife told of the blow that broke her jaw, and he was then ordered to pay $50 doctor's bills.

SHERIFF ASKS SUPREME COURT TO SPEED CASES

Judge De Young Explains Cause of Delays.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Arthur Bemis, robbery, sentenced to 10 years to life in Pontiac reformatory by Judge William V. Brothers.

Ruth Ross, burglary, sentenced to 5 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge John J. Sullivan.

J. Peterson, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Reformatory by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Judge Frederic R. De Young of the State Supreme Court was visited yesterday by Sheriff Charles E. Graydon, who had announced that he would ask the high court to take steps, if possible, to speed procedure so that sentences imposed by the lower courts may be carried out more expeditiously.

Both Judge De Young and Sheriff Graydon refused to comment on their conference, but it was learned that the sheriff listened to some spirited words on the subject of criminal court procedure and on the tactics of criminal court lawyers in this district.

Blames Fennekes Case Lawyer.

In the case of Henry Fennekes, mid-get bandit, sentenced to hang for murder, who has waited thirteen months in the county jail for a final decision on his case, all blame for the delay was laid upon lawyers in the case, it was said. The Supreme court could have decided upon Fennekes' case months ago if dilatory tactics had not been practiced by both defense attorneys and state's attorneys, the sheriff was told.

As an example of why the Supreme court is not to blame for delay in decisions the case against the bandits who robbed the International Harvester company in June, 1926, was cited by Judge De Young.

Delay in Getting Case.

"Those bandits were sentenced in June," the judge said. "The public thinks that the Supreme court immediately took jurisdiction of the affair. But no appeal was filed before us until March 8, 1927. What happened in the interval is no concern of ours. A supersedeas was denied and the bandits sentenced to jail."

ABBE TEARS UP RACY MAGAZINES; FINED 44 CENTS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, March 16.—France's crusading ecclesiastic, Abbe Bethlehem, who is death on wild, racy magazines like La Vie Parisienne and worse, was fined 11 francs (44 cents) and costs—the maximum under the French law—for a raid on a boulevard newsstand that boasts mostly nudist magazines.

The abbe tore up a lot of offending magazines in the dealer's stall.

At the same time, in the same court, Robert Demos, young modernist author, who in retaliation for the abbe's work, raised a religious book stall in the Place St. Sulpice and tore a batch of weekly church publications to shreds, was fined 11 francs and costs.

LAWYER SUED BY BUSCH IN EXPERTS' TANGLE

Attorney John C. Farwell, who was attorney for Arthur B. Merigold, one of the real estate experts made defendant in The Tribune's suit to collect $1,000,000 in alleged exorbitant fees charged the city during the Thompson administration, was sued by Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch yesterday.

Mr. Busch asked for an injunction restraining Farwell from disposing of a certificate of indebtedness transferred to him for attorneys' fees by Merigold. He asked for a court order to compel Farwell to cancel the certificate and to deliver it to the city. The certificate for $21,000 was given to Merigold by the city in November, 1926, as part payment of his services as a real estate expert.

FURNITURE TRUST CASE MAY REACH JURORS TODAY

The case of 79 furniture manufacturers concerning 65 individuals on trial before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter on charges of violation of the Sherman anti-trust law is expected to go to the jury today.

Closing arguments were concluded yesterday. Attorney Robert N. Golding, chief defense counsel, maintained that the charge of combining to fix and maintain prices had not been proven by the government.

Special Counsel Roger Shale for the government in rebuttal contended that the defendants had been proven guilty and that the case was of the utmost importance, affecting every home in America.

Judge Carpenter will give his instructions to the jury this morning.

BIG BILL BACKERS STIR POLITICAL ROW IN COUNCIL

Dever Charges Nelson Accusations False.

Mayorality politics, simmering in the heat of the Dever-Thompson campaign, broke loose in the city council yesterday with a verbal battle that threatened, for nearly half an hour, to turn into a free-for-all fist fight.

The row came to a climax with a personal clash between Mayor Dever and Ald. Oscar Nelson (46), a Thompson supporter, when the latter charged the mayor with avoiding action on raising tax valuations of big corporations because there was "too much dynamite in it."

Charges Statement False.

"Gentlemen," interrupted the mayor, who was presiding, "That is a false statement. There is not a word of truth in it."

"I can prove it," shouted the alderman. "And I'll meet you in public, any time, anywhere you say, if you're not afraid. You can't call me a liar."

Half a dozen aldermen in a moment were on their feet, Thompson and Dever partisans shouting invectives at each other and demanding the floor.

The excitement in the beginning started with a resolution introduced by Ald. B. A. Cronson (3) directing the city controller to make a report at the next meeting of the city's revenue and expenditures in 1926 and the figures of the 1927 budget.

Hints $1,000,000 Deficit.

"The reason I make this request," he said, "is because I understand there was a $1,000,000 deficit that hasn't been disclosed."

Ald. Jacob Arvey (24), Mayor Dever's floor leader, asked that the resolution go to the finance committee.

"Why is it that such an order is brought in two weeks before election?" Ald. Arvey asked. "Such a report cannot be drafted in two or three days or two or three weeks."

Cronson so anxious to get it now when he could have had it months ago?"

Demands Quick Action.

Protecting against the resolution being "pigeonholed in a committee," Ald. Cronson called for a suspension of the rules and its passage.

The motion was lost and the resolution was sent to the committee by a vote of 23 to 18, the aldermen dividing almost to the man on party lines. The roll call was as follows:

Yes—Anderson (2), Jackson (3), Cronson (4), Eaton (5), Guernsey (6), Goyer (9), Cross (10), Wilson (11), Kuntzmann (12), Earbe (17), Fleck (30), Nusser (36), Loeschner (44), Nelson (46), Hoellen (47), and Frankhausen (48).

Nays: Coughlin (1), McDonough (13), O'Toole (14), Moran (16), Ryan (18), D. A. Hara (21), Coyne (22), Toman (23), Arvey (24), Mendel (26), A. J. Hara (29), Adamkewicz (31), Smith (32), Petlak (33), Kainid (34), Mills (37), Adamowski (38), Ringa (39), Jones (40), Bowler (41), Crowe (42), Briske (45), and Pontow (50).

Blames Tax Dodgers.

It was while Ald. Nelson was explaining his vote that his encounter with Mayor Dever was precipitated. Referring to Ald. Arvey's statement that "we would have had a deficit every year if we had followed Ald. Nelson's demands for pay increases," Ald. Nelson replied:

"You, Ald. Arvey, know the reason for our deficits—it's because of the tax dodgers. One of them is the U. S. Gypsum company, which was assessed in 1925 on a capital stock valuation of $1,000."

"Assessed by whom?" interjected Ald. Arvey.

"By the board of assessors."

"Yes, by William Hale Thompson's political colleagues."

The U. S. Gypsum company, cited by Ald. Nelson, is headed by Sewell L. Avery, a member of the Dever and Deacy committee. He was assailed by Thompson a few days ago as "the biggest tax dodger in America."

Continuing, Ald. Nelson then attacked the mayor for refusing to support the tax valuation drive and the exchange of epithets followed. He launched a second charge after order was restored, stating that he, with Victor Olander and John Fitzpatrick, Chicago Federation of Labor officials, had called on the mayor and "pleaded in vain for his aid."

"That is also a false statement," answered the mayor.

"And I want to add to this," the

CONNIE READY TO ASK SECOND DIVORCE, HER LAWYER SAYS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 16.—[Special.]—Constance Talmadge will proceed for a divorce from her present husband, Capt. Alistair MacIntosh, within a few days, according to Milton Cohen, her attorney.

Miss Talmadge told me that she would be ready to proceed toward her divorce when she concludes her present picture," he said. "The grounds will be desertion. If Miss Talmadge has sued anywhere else, or any action been taken in Mexico, I am not aware of it."

Miss Talmadge became Mrs. MacIntosh Feb. 27, 1926. She formerly was married to John Pialoglou, Greek tobacco wholesaler of New York.

mayor said. "It is only a coward that will take advantage of the position of a presiding officer, thinking I cannot defend myself, but there is no law that denies me the right to answer a false statement."

Mr. Olander and Mr. Fitzpatrick did call on me. I have unbounded respect for them and followed their advice. I didn't and never will follow the advice of Ald. Nelson."

"May I answer the chair?" Ald. Nelson demanded.

"No. You are just explaining your vote," said the mayor. "Proceed with the roll call."

"What's the matter, aren't you game?" Nelson retorted.

"Don't worry about my gameness," said the mayor. "If I wasn't presiding here I'd show you how game I am."

Seeing that they were defeated, the Thompsonites gave up their battle to get immediate action and the debate ended. It is expected to be resumed at a meeting of the finance committee Tuesday when the Cronson resolution is brought up for consideration.

To Probe Graft Charges.

Prior to the political row, Ald. Nelson introduced a resolution, renewing his proposed investigation of graft charges in connection with Wacker drive. The resolution is an aftermath of a feud between Ald. Nelson and the late John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, who had branded the charges false.

The Nelson resolution instructs the board to submit an immediate report of the money spent on the drive, names of contractors, amounts spent for purchase of land and buildings, wrecking work, etc. The resolution was adopted.

NOBODY CLAIMS FOUNDLING BOOZE ON LEVIATHAN

Selwyn Denies It Belongs to Him.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—If any one thoughtlessly mislaid two crates of champagne, cognac, whiskey and beer—167 bottles in all—outside the presidential suite of the United States liner Leviathan, the United States government wishes to let him know it has found what has been nicknamed the "stuff."

In its anxiety to find the absent minded owner of the "stuff" the government swung into official action today and requested Arch Selwyn, the theatrical producer, to pay a visit to the custom house. It was at his door—he made the trip in the suite—that the Volstead founding was discovered by a custom searching squad after the liner docked yesterday.

Denies He Owned It.

Mr. Selwyn appeared and denied that he had been so careless. He explained that he had shared the suite with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Almy and Lou Holtz, a theatrical star.

He was then shown tags taken from the two crates. One marked "with great care" had been sent from a London firm and contained three cases of cognac and two cases of whiskey. I was addressed to "Mr. Fred Almy, Selwyn suite, SS. Leviathan."

The other crate, containing seventy-nine bottles of champagne and twenty-nine bottles of beer, had been sent from Paris addressed to "Mrs. Fred Almy, Selwyn suite, SS. Leviathan."

"Some one must be playing a practical joke on Almy," mused Mr. Selwyn.

Ordered to Appear.

Meanwhile, efforts to reach Almy at the Hotel Ritz-Carlton were without success, but word was left at the hotel for him to come to the custom house tomorrow morning.

Almy is the Arizona Cow puncher whose first wife was Dowager Lady Miffelham, who left him a fortune of millions when she died a few months ago. Recently in Paris, Almy married Miss June Dibble, one of the most beautiful mannequins of the house of Jean Patou, and made the trip on the Leviathan for his honeymoon.

SALM SETTLES OUT OF COURT FOR $500,000; MILLICENT GETS CHILD

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—The separation suit brought by Count Ludwig Salm against his wife, the former Millicent Rogers, has been settled out of court, it was learned today. The case will be officially terminated shortly through the filing of a discontinuance order signed by counsel for both sides.

To effect this discontinuance a cash transfer occurred, the size of which is indicated by the fact that one of the attorneys received $100,000 as a fee for his part in the proceedings. Estimates as to the amount which Count Salm accepted to withdraw action vary from $350,000 to $500,000, exclusive of all counsel fees.

Countess Salm is in Europe with her parents and will shortly apply for a French divorce, it is said. Count Salm has been visiting his mother at the family home in Austria, but will move within the jurisdiction of the French courts as soon as the legal way has been paved for a speedy trial.

Under the agreement Countess Salm will keep the 2 year old son, Peter, who will be educated in the United States.

SALM ATTENDS U. S. BLONDE.

NICE, France, March 16.—[Apparent.]—Indifferent to a report that his wife had obtained her father's consent to divorce him, Count Ludwig Salm von Hoegstraten is thoroughly enjoying himself on the Riviera, playing excellent tennis in the Cannes tournament and paying marked attention to a mysterious American blonde.

Count Salm parks his new American queen alone while he plays, turning around every few minutes to watch her and showing an exaggerated lover's solicitude, protecting her with wraps and furs from the bitter mistral that sweeps the Riviera shores in the month of March.

Scholl Confesses; Claims Death Pact with Daughter

Confession that he killed his two young children and that he did it up the name of mercy, was made by Walter A. Scholl yesterday after he was arrested by Chicago detectives. His statement, telling of a death pact with his 8 year old daughter Vivian, which he failed to keep, was made at the detective bureau just before he left under guard for Gary, Ind., the scene of his crime.

"I intended to commit suicide and didn't want to leave the babies to face the world alone," he related calmly. "Vivian, the older, agreed to die with me. Donald, who was only 6, was too young to understand."

Husband and Wife Meet.

Scholl, who is 33, an accountant and a former real estate man, said he failed to kill himself because he lost his nerve. And he wanted to see his estranged wife, Mrs. Margaret Scholl of 6027 Kenmore avenue, before he died, he said. He saw her in the office of Chief of Detectives Schoemaker, where he was taken after his arrest at 6153 South Hermitage avenue.

"Darling," Scholl greeted his wife, whose repulse, he said, had caused him to plan his own death and the deaths of his children by a former marriage. They embraced, both in tears. Then Scholl fainted, but was quickly revived.

"You'll visit me in the Gary jail?" the prisoner asked as his wife was being led out of the office. She nodded.

Details of the double slaying, in a house rented for the purpose in Gary, were given by Scholl with little display of emotion.

Buy's Chloroform, Ether.

"I had intended to use gas, but found there was none in the house," he said. "So I bought chloroform and ether. Vivian had said, 'Daddy, I know you can't live without mama, so if you want to die I'll die with you.'"

Shortly after midnight last Thursday I soaked cloths with two bottles of chloroform and three cans of ether. Donald was asleep when I put the cloths over his face; he was too young to understand, anyway. Vivian was awake, but she didn't resist.

About three hours later they were still alive and I didn't have any more ether. So I tied towels around their necks. They died shortly after 3 a. m.

"Loses Nerve" for Suicide.

"I intended to shoot myself immediately, but was overcome by a desire to see my wife once more. I have tried twice since to end it but haven't had the nerve."

Mrs. Scholl, who is the slayer's second wife, said she was glad her husband had been arrested before he committed suicide.

"He has always been crazy," she said, "and I didn't have anything to do to cure him now."

When Scholl arrived in Gary with Chief of Police Forbis and Capt. John R. Smith, his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Scholl of Pittsburgh, Pa., were at police headquarters.

"Why didn't you kill yourself?" demanded the father, a retired Seventh Day Adventist preacher, at first refusing to shake hands with his son.

"I had the pistol to my head but I couldn't pull the trigger," Scholl pleaded.

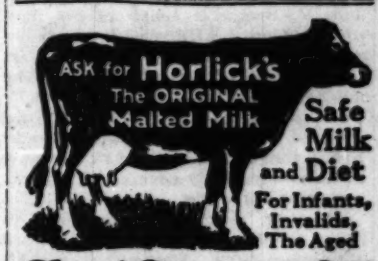

Later the minister declared that he

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Mayor Dever, in a little intimate talk, as he styled it, to a group of the Northwestern Nonpartisan Dever league, said last night that the picture he intends to keep on display before his campaign audiences is "eight years of misrule under Thompsonism." He said Thompson can have all the vaudeville stunts to himself, that Bill can have a monopoly on King George and Buckingham palace, but that for Dever's part a majority campaign is too serious and vital a matter to turn into a comic.

The mayor, who dropped into the Chicago Norak club, 2350 North Kedzie boulevard, for a reception, said he was only making a neighborly call among old friends, and that he would reserve his political speech for a mass meeting the Scandinavian-Americans are planning for the near future.

No Ballyhoo for Dever.

"The majority campaign," said the mayor, "is too serious a matter to turn into a vaudeville performance, as some are doing. To my way of thinking, I'd like you to approach the polling booths April 5 in the same solemn spirit as you would approach a sacrament."

"I want to keep away from anything that sounds like ballyhoo. There's enough of that in other quarters. I'm going to set forth in plain language as the campaign progresses, the conditions under which we took over the city four years ago."

"My friends, we stepped into a dismantled house, a dilapidated house. The city was on the downhill. It was bankrupt. Fancy Chicago, a city the like of which the world has never before seen, being a bankrupt, its credit so low it had to pay extra prices in the open market."

"I'm not a superman, only an ordinary man raised in Chicago where I began as a workman, but I've managed as put the city on a cash basis, its finances have been restored until the credit of the city is higher than

CITY COLLEGE PLANS MAY BE REALIZED SOON

The proposed college offering regular four year courses to be operated by the board of education appeared an imminent possibility for Chicago last night.

Julius F. Smietanka, acting president of the school board, announced that if in May the results of the quadrennial reassessment justify it, that the board will consider the establishment of a college along the lines of the City College of New York and the University of Cincinnati. Mayor Dever, he said, is favorable.

At first, Mr. Smietanka said, courses in the Crane junior college might be extended and the present Lane Technical High school building, which is to be vacated when the new plant is completed, might be utilized. Ultimately Mr. Smietanka hopes that a new group of buildings and campus will be created.

The chief proponent of the college extension plan among the educationists is Assistant Superintendent Morgan G. Hodge.

OUSTED POLICE CHIEF REVEALS PROBE OF NOTE

Further charges that he was the victim of village politics were issued last night by William Wiltberger, ousted chief of police of Evanston, after he had, he said, investigated a letter demanding his dismissal presented to the council of the suburb by Ald. Peter N. Jans of Evanston's Fifth ward.

The letter purported to come to the alderman from one "William Peterson, a Fowler avenue taxpayer." In it the writer was supposed to have told of overhearing a group of village policemen complaining of Wiltberger's administration while standing in Fountain square one night.

Wiltberger said his inquiry showed no William Peterson lived at the Fowler avenue address given, but that a man named Peterson, in the employ of the alderman, did live there.

Police to Watch Election of Film Operators' Union

The revolt against King Charles was carried even into a reaction from the ornate carving of the high-backed chairs of the period to low-backed chairs of rugged simplicity.

This type of furniture suited the character of the homes of the Early American period—and still is the most appropriate for dining rooms where good traditions of design must be combined with low prices.

RUSH $200,000 IN AIRPLANE; BANK RUN IS AVERTED

Palm Beach Postoffice Is Stormed by Negroes.

West Frankfort, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—An airplane bearing $200,000 in cash was rushed to Zeigler from St. Louis today and stopped a run on the First National bank. The money was sent from the Federal Reserve bank at St. Louis and its arrival satisfied depositors of the bank's solvency. The run, which started in the morning, was checked at 2 p. m.

F. Guy Hitt, president of the bank, said this afternoon his bank was prepared to have satisfied every depositor had the run continued. The bank has resources near a million dollars and is considered one of the strongest institutions in Franklin county.

Run on Postoffice. West Palm Beach, Fla., March 16.—[Special.]—Believing that the government was "going broke," more than 100 Negroes lined up in front of the postoffice when it opened today, and started an all day run on the postal savings department.

The crowd, including an occasional white, increased so rapidly that police were summoned to maintain order. "The situation is well in hand, and there is absolutely no danger of our inability to meet every demand," Postmaster G. W. Smith declared. "The run is ridiculous and is confined entirely to the smallest depositors. The Federal Reserve bank in Jacksonville has sent us sufficient sums to pay every depositor on demand."

The run followed closely the financial crisis here, in which three West Palm Beach and one Palm Beach bank suspended operations.

PRINCE WILLIAM NEAR BREAKDOWN IN DES MOINES, IA.

Des Moines, Ia., March 16.—(AP)—Prince William of Sweden, who arrived here today, is on the verge of a physical breakdown and has been advised by his manager, Thomas Burke, to cancel the remainder of his American lecture tour.

Physicians also have urged the prince to cut short his itinerary, but William is determined to carry out his schedule.

After another strenuous morning of receptions, inspections, speeches, and handshaking after his arrival from Kansas City the prince went to bed immediately after lunch to conserve his strength.

'TARZAN' DIES AS STRAW BED BURNS; SUICIDE, BELIEF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] BERLIN, March 16.—Tarzan, wonder chimpanzee, who has appeared on vaudeville stages throughout the world, died last night of burns after setting the straw in his cage afire.

He appeared as usual on the program, but seemed in a bad mood. He hung his evening cape and top hat on their accustomed peg and sat down to his nightly meal in the setting of an elegant restaurant, but he appeared displeased with the service, for several times he frowned heavily at the waiter.

Observers of the chimpanzee said he recently has appeared tired of his rôle as clown before audiences shrieking with merriment, and his human colleagues in the act are convinced Tarzan committed suicide. They believe he was weary of drifting between the world of man and beast, or laying off his patent leather slippers, and leaving the flashy stage of man to sleep on straw in a monkey cage.

War Pensioners to Suffer Delay for Senate's Talking

Veterans, widows of veterans, and orphans, totaling 490,000, will have to wait until July for their May and June regular monthly pension payments, Winfield Scott, commissioner of pensions, Washington, D. C., last night telegraphed to Commander John J. Riley of the William McKinley post, Spanish-American War veterans. The recent senate filibuster and the consequent failure to pass the deficiency bill providing for appropriations of $37,200,000 for pension payments for veterans of the civil, Mexican, and Spanish-American wars is blamed for the delay.

One Want Ad Produces 8 Calls by Noon for Set of Leather Bound Classics!

A leather bound set of classics at a very reasonable price! No wonder the Want Ad readers responded to Mr. Ryan's offer so readily. His Tribune Want Ad was an ideal method of selling his books, for it stated in "picture words" exactly what was for sale. Had Mr. Ryan been less careful in his choice of words, his Want Ad would probably have not pulled so many inquiries. As it was, eight persons called before noon of the day the Tribune Want Ad appeared and the set was sold to one who could best appreciate its merits—another book lover.

If you are selling the Tribune Want Ad Way—and you will if you want quick selling action—try to choose "picture words" wherever it's possible and see that your Want Ad is large enough to describe adequately the best features of your offer. SEEKS SPEEDY GALLOWS PATH FOR 5 KILLERS

Rehn Will Ask Court to Act Quickly.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The officials of Will county yesterday demanded prompt execution of the six convicts, perhaps the sixth will be caught, sentenced to death for killing Deputy Warden Peter M. N. Klein last May. On the day Klein was killed seven escaped and only six were recaptured. Those six received death sentences. Three of them broke jail at Joliet and only two of those were caught.

The six condemned men had asserted their rights to an appeal to the state supreme court. Will county now demands their lives, once forfeited to the state and, as now contended, forfeited the second time when last Saturday three of them fled that county jail and killed Policeman Leo Grant in Chicago. The other three slayers of this city had their cell bars saved half way through when their comrades escaped from the Will county jail.

Seeks Quick Action.

After denial yesterday by Nathan F. Leopold Jr. that he was implicated in either of the escape plots, and a new confession by Roberto Torres, one of the recaptured killers, State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn announced he was seeking a short cut to the gallows for the jail breakers. They are Bernardo Rizzo and Roberto Torres, now prisoners, while Bernardo Roa still is at large.

Excitement was caused late yesterday afternoon and last night in Winnebago and Ogle counties when Sheriff Baldwin and Good gathered posse, armed with shotguns, and searched near Byron for a man said to have been seen by a Rock Falls motorist. The motorist reported that he saw a man, who might be Bernardo Roa, with a pistol beside him, in a quarry hole near Blackhawk quarry, just north of Byron. The posse searched for several hours, but found no one.

Efforts to trace Roa also were made in Detroit last night. Detective Albert J. Johnson of Chicago and two Detroit policemen went to 8844 Dix avenue in that city. They found that Jenni Roa, a brother of Bernardo's, had lived there, but was said to have left Nov. 10 for Mexico.

Grand Juror Aroused.

The need for quick and summary justice was stressed yesterday by Albert Schleicher, 1004 Hickory street, Joliet, a member of the Will county grand jury, which will be summoned into session next Monday. Schleicher said the residents of Joliet and Will county are fearful of a general outbreak at the penitentiary.

"Men, women, and children are in terror every time any one escapes from the penitentiary," Schleicher said. "It's certainly not pleasant to have the lives of our families endangered by escaping prisoners. It's high time we took drastic action."

State's Attorney Rehn's plans soon became known. He was preparing for several indictments next Monday as a result of the jail break of last week. "I am searching the law books for grounds for a motion to the supreme court to rescind the writ of superpetuam granted to the six convicts," Mr. Rehn said yesterday. "There are certain legal opinions to the effect that convicts automatically—by their escape and attempted escapes—cancel their request to the supreme court for a review of their trial."

"If that opinion is sustained the jurisdiction over the defendants would be back with Judge Frederick A. Hill,

FARMERS BIGGER INSURANCE RISK THAN CITY FOLKS

"Country people are more liable to injury than city people, probably because the city person is trained to think quicker, and the largest percentage of accidents happens during the recreation hours and not while people are working," J. R. Austin, vice president of the United Craftsmen Insurance company, said yesterday at the mid-winter meeting of the Health and Accident Underwriters' conference in the Palmer house.

who sentenced those men to death. Then Judge Hill could set a new date for their hanging, and Joliet, Will county, and the state of Illinois, would be well rid of five enemies of society."

It was known that Justice Frederick De Young of the state supreme court, who granted the six convicts a stay of execution pending decision of their appeal by that court, had been consulted about this phase of the law. It was understood, however, that he would not express an opinion about it at present.

Convicts' Possible Legal Status.

This is how several lawyers at Joliet yesterday, including some of those who defended the six convicts, regard the legal status of the five men now, in view of their escape effort and the killing of Policeman Grant:

"The six convicts, through their lawyers, sought the protection of the supreme court and it was temporarily extended to them. There is an ancient law to the effect that when a person seeks the protection of any court and then escapes or attempts to escape from justice the court's protection is withdrawn.

"In this case the supreme court was protecting these convicts while considering whether jury and judge had erred in sentencing them to death. Now there seems to be no bulwark between them and the verdict of the jury."

Prosecutor Rehn said that if a search of the law proves the truth of this contention there may be a speedy hanging of the five men now held.

The five men, possibly so placed are: Roberto Torres and Bernardo Rizzo, both prisoners of the Chicago police, caught after they killed Grant; Walter Stalsky, Charles Duschowski and Charles Schader, still are in the Will county jail.

Says Girls Brought Guns, Says.

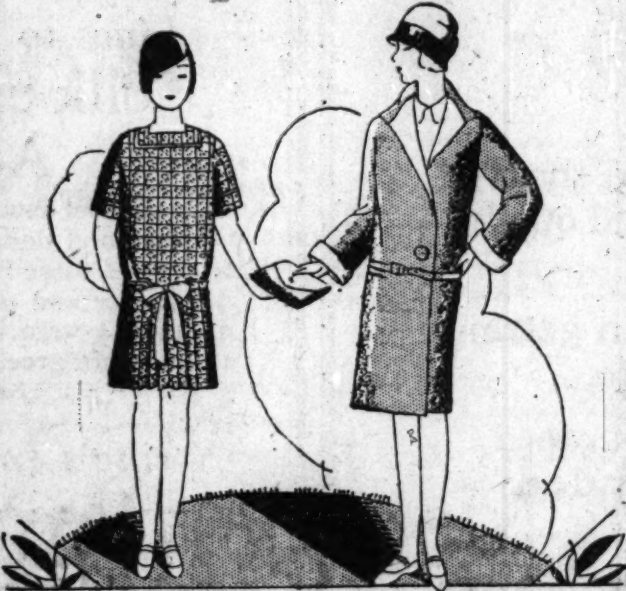

William Schoemaker, chief of detectives, telephoned to Mr. Rehn yesterday that Torres had admitted Juanita Gallardo early in February had brought three saws and three revolvers to Roa at the Will county jail. Roa had written love letters to her. The Mexicans wore out the saws on the lowest bars in two cells.

Then last Thursday, Torres said, Atilana Elmalde, a Mexican girl who lives in Joliet, brought in more saws. The Mexicans cut through all the necessary bars and then gave the saws to Duschowski, according to Torres. They also gave two revolvers to Duschowski before they left. Duschowski, Stalsky and Schader were doing their best to shoot their way out of jail last Saturday morning when local policemen tossed tear gas bombs into the jail and overcame them.

Juanita Gallardo and Atilana Elmalde are in custody at Joliet and may be tried as accessories to the murder of Policeman Grant of Chicago.

BILL TO CURB U. S. FILMS STIRS UP PARLIAMENT ROW

Insist Public Has Right to See Best Movies.

BY DAVID DARRAH
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, March 16.—Considerable opposition developed in the house of commons tonight to the government's bill, introduced mainly to "prevent Americanization of the British cinema." The opposition was chiefly on the ground that the bill involves protection for the industry at the expense of the general public, the general argument being that people paying to see films are entitled to the best they can get without artificial restrictions or prohibitions by means of a quota system.

The bill demands that a quota of British films must be shown at the rate of 7 1/2 per cent the first year, 1928, rising annually 2 1/2 per cent to a maximum of 25 per cent in 1935.

Harding British Trade.
Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the board of trade, asserted American films were resulting in American nations being copied, with serious effects on British trade in countries formerly doing big business with the British.

The opposition to the bill came from all parts of the house. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, condemned the quota system as tending toward the creation of a monopoly. A similar criticism was made from the Liberal benches by former Minister Runciman.

Calls England's Films Bad.
Col. Day, who has close connections with the film industry, condemned the British films as bad, arguing that the British films only produced 3 per cent of the world's films last year and that they would be unable to provide the suggested 7 1/2 per cent quota. Other speakers declared the British production methods were regarded as a joke in Germany, where today most important pictures are made, and were a by-word in Sweden.

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE.
Wesley Mack, 24, Negro, was held to the grand jury on a charge that he murdered David I. Weinstein, pawn broker, of 902 North State street, by Judge Max Luster in the Clark street court yesterday.

CHARGE SMITH PLOTS AGAINST N. Y. BARGE CANAL

G. O. P. Leaders Score Governor's Policies.

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—[Special.]—In one of the hottest debates of the present season, Gov. Al Smith, Frederick Stuart Greene, state superintendent of public works, and the Democratic party in general were accused on the floor of the assembly with attempting to create the impression that the barge canal was a failure and that it should either be abandoned or turned over to the federal government for an all-American ship canal from the great lakes to the sea.

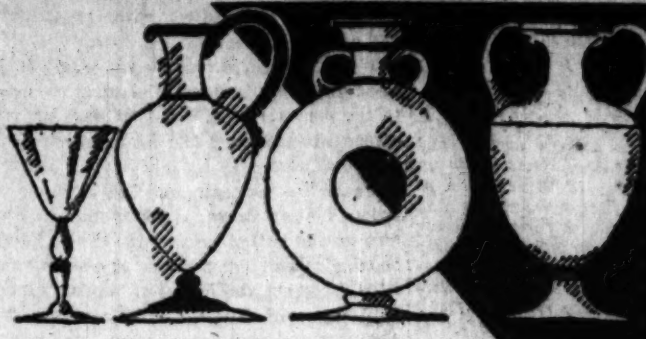

The Lipowicz-Cooke bill, which would give to owners of barge canal equipment the right to bring suit in the court of claims should the barge canal be abandoned or ceded to the federal government, was up for final passage when the attack on the governor and the Democratic party was launched.

Attacks Governor, Democrats.
Assemblyman Cuvillier, New York Democrat, asked Assemblyman Cooke, Buffalo Republican and sponsor for the measure, for an explanation of its provisions. After explaining the bill, Assemblyman Cooke opened a vigorous attack on the governor and the Democratic party.

"There is no question in my mind, nor can there be any doubt in the mind of any one, but what Gov. Smith, Col. Greene, and the Democratic party have done everything possible to discourage the use of the barge canal," he declared. "I deny the right of the governor or the superintendent of public works to define canal policy for the state. That rests with the legislature and it is about time that the governor stopped trying to dictate to the legislature."

Democrats Answer Charge.
When Mr. Cooke ended half a dozen Democrats jumped to their feet. Speaker McGinnis recognized Mr. Cuvillier. "The greatest enemy of the barge canal in the state is the New York Central railroad, of which the Republican party is a subsidized asset," said Mr. Cuvillier. "Can you point to one member of the Republican party who is subsidized by the New York Central to the extent of being given a suite of rooms at the Hotel Biltmore?" Assemblyman Cooke asked. This roused Assemblyman Bloch, Democratic leader of the assembly. "A man has a right to live where he sees fit and the governor of this state certainly has the right to live at the Hotel Biltmore," he retorted. The measure was passed by a vote of 78 to 53. It already has been passed in the senate and now goes to Gov. Smith.

Venetian Glass Captures the Loveliness of Spring

The glow of rare old jewels has been captured by Venetian artists, who fashion the lovely Venini glass into vases and stemware that reflect the very spirit of Spring. As a gift, as a new note in dinner service, or as a background for fresh Spring flowers, they are the essence of color and delicate vitality. The Burley Shops present a new collection of this famous glass—the individual pieces will be found to be surprisingly inexpensive.

RACE AS A POLITICAL ISSUE.

Mr. Thompson tells the Negro voters of the Second, Third, and Fourth wards that their chance of getting a square deal is in electing him. For the most part of them that is not true. Police supervision of their disorderly elements probably will be lighter. Disorderly license will be greater, but that does not appeal to all the colored people as desirable. There will be more political jobs for them and that does appeal, no doubt, to most of them as worth while. It would in almost any section of the city. It is what the professional boys everywhere want.

The colored vote was with Thompson as soon as he said he was a candidate. It was with him in the primary and it will be with him in the election. The opposition will be content if the vote is a qualified one and no larger than it legally should be.

When Thompson speaks in the wards and threatens to make it hotter than hell for the police the day after he is elected and when he promises the colored people that their day in this city will dawn with him back in the city hall he isn't gaining any votes in the Negro wards. He has the votes now. It does not do any harm to have King George a critical issue in the Chicago election unless being ridiculous is harmful. No one cares whether Thompson is ridiculous or not. It wouldn't do any good to care. He has two reasons for being. One is he doesn't help it and the other is that he doesn't know it. Bill has a multiple personality. Sometimes he thinks he is Napoleon and sometimes Billy Sunday. He has moments of being Buffalo Bill, Thaddeus Stevens, George Washington, Noah, Weber and Fields, Oliver Cromwell, Daniel Boone, Balaam's ass, and Leon Errol.

It is not so certain that the campaign gains anything by making the colored electorate an issue and, as it seems, the main issue, in the election of a mayor. It is perceptible that if a mayor may be elected at one time because he is for the colored people, another may be elected another time because he is against them. That is a situation for which no sensible person would have any relief.

SECRET DIPLOMACY.

The war to end war was going to abolish secret diplomacy as well as other sources of mischief in international relations. That was supposed to be arranged by the covenant of the league of nations. Among the numerous things neither the war to end war nor the league has accomplished is the abolition of secret diplomacy.

Neither the peoples of Europe nor their governments know any more about the doings of their diplomats than they did before 1914. The other day a dispatch from London on "unimpeachable authority" reported that "through the indiscretion of a member of the soviet embassy at Berlin, British and French diplomats have obtained full corroboration of the existence of a series of secret agreements in the form of exchanges of diplomatic notes between Berlin and Moscow. These establish a firm link between the two governments and make it impossible to secure Germany's cooperation in a united European front against the soviet."

In the same issue appears a dispatch from Geneva reporting that pourparlers between Germany and Poland aiming at an accord regarding Russia in case of trouble with the bolsheviks are proceeding. We learn of startling reports that Russian troops are massing on the western frontier, filling Roumania, Poland, and Estonia with alarm. The Polish and German foreign ministers died together at Geneva.

You pays your money and you takes your choice. The news from Europe day after day gives rumor and report of secret arrangements between this country and that. Italy is reported to fear an understanding between France and Jugoslavia. Italy is supposed to be coquetting with Spain. Sir Austen Chamberlain is all over the place. The dispatches quoted above show how little we really know of German orientation, while there is no reason to doubt that Comrade Tolstitcher is busy burrowing under the surface of European affairs with all the skill credited to Russian international intrigue under the regime of the czars.

In short, despite the thundering lesson supposed to have been taught the world in the late days of July, 1918, when all the chancellors in Europe were swearing they did not want a war and none could prevent it, and despite the league and its file of treaties accessible to every earnest pacifist who cares to take his or her vacation in Geneva, European diplomacy is precisely the sort of affair it was before the great war.

If the league of nations were what its salesmen in America or elsewhere would have us believe it, this could not be. But the European governments do not and will not make use of it, as we are told it is to be used to insure "open covenants openly arrived at." They prefer, and their people acquiesce in their preferring, the classic technique of secret negotiation and counterbalancing alliances and understandings. Our adherence or non-adherence has nothing whatever to do with this preference. This complex network of secret diplomacy is not caused by fear of us and, happily for us, does not involve us, at least directly. It is a product of the old customs and the old European politics and has been developed through centuries, and our participation in European affairs would not alter it a jot, unless to add new elements of complication. European governments do not rely upon the league as an agency competent to adjust their major relations. They do not want to publish and argue their important purposes in its forum or submit them to its control. Only among a certain class of doctrinaires in our country is it taken seriously save as a convenient device for meeting or sidetracking minor problems.

THE THREE WHO WERE NOT HANGED.

Bills to restore capital punishment in Michigan are stopped in the senate judiciary committee by the decision to postpone consideration of them indefinitely. That disposes of them with a virtual finality unless the senate votes to take the bills from the committee, which is improbable. The effort to put Michigan back on the capital punishment basis had the natural effect of reviving controversy in neighboring states. Michigan apparently is satisfied to work its criminal code without the extreme penalty of death, as are some other states.

Illinois is just now passing through the various stages of an experience with murderers who were saved from capital punishment not by the lack of a hanging law but by the verdict in a court. The case is that of the three Mexicans who killed a ticket agent in an elevated station in 1923 and were sent to the penitentiary instead of being hanged.

In an attempt to escape from the penitentiary made by them last year the deputy warden was killed. They and their associates in the attempt were tried in the Will county court and the Mexicans and three others were sentenced to be hanged Feb. 11 of this year. A stay of execution was granted until Friday of last week, when they were to have been hanged. Another stay was given and within forty-eight hours the Mexicans had broken out of the Will county jail and were being driven to Chicago by a terrorized cab driver.

Chicago police intercepted them and a policeman was killed. One of the murderers escaped and at this writing is at large and armed. The murder of Charles Johnson, the ticket agent, was not punished by taking the lives of his slayers. Upon that turn of justice Peter Klein, the deputy warden, and Leo Grant, the policeman, were sacrificed and lost their lives. The book is not closed yet.

It is difficult to see in this anything but waste and waste of what we tell each other is most important, human life. Other states may have more fortunate experiences with their penitentiaries and jails. The present administration of Illinois penitentiaries makes it probable that most states are more fortunate, but the best conducted penitentiary is not proof against successful delivery. The reluctance to use capital punishment when it is needed preserves the lives of murderers who are killers by record and by instinct. It is impossible to perceive what is more sacred in their tenure of life than in the tenure of their potential victims.

AMERICA AND THE SUBMARINE.

Raymond Lestonnat of the French ministry of marine noted in a recent article in The Tribune the fact that since the war submarines have been greatly improved. It is no longer easy to detect their movements by listening devices; the sound made by the propellers has been effectively muffled. In addition, the propellers and rudders have been protected with guards which prevent the entanglement of the ships in submerged nets. The cruising radius has been increased, the new ships offer greater comfort to the crews, and navigational instruments have been greatly improved.

M. Lestonnat has difficulty concealing his astonishment that the American government has at any time allowed itself to take a stand against submarine warfare. He believes the United States has been playing England's game. Whether he has any evidence of this in addition to the circumstantial case he makes out is not clear. At any rate, the facts are there to support him. This submarine is a terrible threat to Great Britain in time of war. The Germans proved that, though they were slow to recognize the value of the submarines. They might have built more of them. Since the war improvements in submarine construction have increased the threat. England must get food and raw materials from overseas and the paths of ships bringing in supplies must converge in narrow seas, the ideal theater for submarine warfare. Anything which England may do to limit submarine construction and any treaties limiting submarine activity in time of war are to England's advantage. Conversely, this country is more nearly self-sufficient than any other in the world and the submarine can do less injury to us than to any other great country. We have far more reason to fear the blockading of our ports by surface craft and here the submarine can be of great value in protecting our coasts. This country has nothing to gain and much to lose from a treaty limiting submarine construction.

Editorial of the Day

NINE FEET THROUGH THE VALLEY.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE is revising certain platform planks or favorite slogans which for months it has printed at the head of its editorial column. "Unite the continent from Atlantic to Gulf through the Illinois waterway," which formerly was slogan No. 1, applying to the central west, has been changed to "Build a 9 foot waterway to New Orleans." Creation of the waterway between the end of the drainage canal and Utica has been assumed by the state of Illinois, and at its present session congress took the responsibility and made an appropriation for the section from Utica to the Mississippi at Grafton. The plank is, accordingly, it is explained, being restated in the light of past progress made and present conditions, and the need now is to emphasize the point that the channel must have a minimum depth of 9 feet as far as New Orleans. For, as is explained further, that is the economical depth for barge line operation. With less lighter loads must be carried at greater cost per unit.

The slogan, "Dig her deep through the valley," had a devoted following all up and down the river for many years, and though results seemed for a long time meager, without doubt the present union of strong forces to obtain justice for the rivers was importantly forwarded. It is not a valley proposition any more, but one in which the whole midcontinent area has a common and vital interest. This Tribune adds that for 9 feet a diversion from the lakes at least as great as the present must be permitted. All are not agreed on that question. In fact, it is contended that diversion for navigation only will be less than diversion for sanitary purposes, and if the existing route would be helpful in summer it might at other times heighten the crest of food waters. The diversion issue is not necessarily involved.

But for a newspaper feeling the need of a slogan, what better one than this 9 feet slogan? And, just as a railroad cannot be standard gauge part of the way and narrow gauge the rest of the way, so it must be a 9 foot channel all the way to New Orleans. According to the engineers' formula prevailing, that would be digging her deep through the valley.

How to Keep Well.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. THUMB SUCKING BABIES.

DR. SMILEY and Margaret Blanton think we are too quick on the trigger in the matter of treating babies for thumb sucking. This is an entirely natural performance at certain stages of a baby's career, almost as natural as breathing, sucking, and closing the eyes. Under other circumstances thumb sucking is a natural reaction to certain influences. The harm reaction of thumb sucking has been exaggerated. Under most circumstances the baby will stop the practice by himself.

When a baby is still a little hungry he sucks his thumb. One of the first things he learns is that this adds to his comfort. When he is hungry an empty stomach seems to quiet down under the influence. Likewise, when the stomach is too full, thumb sucking promotes comfort. Adults learn to chew gum as a means of securing comfort when the stomach is too full. A little thumb sucking prevents some food spitting in babies, sucking gum chewing prevents some of the discomfort of teething in adults.

When a baby is suffering from colic he suffers some discomfort in his jaws and head bones. The pressure of thumb sucking on the inside of the mouth is a reaction to the discomfort. When the discomfort of colic is over, the thumb sucking will take care of itself.

Out of these considerations grow some recommendations by Drs. Smiley and Blanton. The school doctor who examined her said there is nothing physically wrong only the underweight.

She was vaccinated against smallpox and diphtheria. There are three principal causes of underweight in growing children. One is improper or insufficient food. Another is some physical defect, such as infected tonsils. A third is faulty habits. If you are certain that one of the first two is the cause, you still have the third.

How are the child's habits? Does she go to bed early and sleep nine or ten hours quietly every night? Is she a nervous, fidgety child? Have you taught her to sit still? Has she ever been hard or attend the movies too often? How about open air exercise? Investigate this group of causes.

Also, be certain as to food and food habits and tonics and other disorders.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

NANE YOURSELF. Chicago, March 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My name is quite foreign in sound but with a little change it sounds like a good American name. I sign the American name on bank accounts and mortgages. 1. Is this legal? I have a banking account in my own name, too. 2. Can my husband claim this in case of my death? 3. In case of sickness could he get the money out?

Mrs. F. 1. Yes, but you should adopt one name or the other and use it consistently so as to avoid confusion. 2. If there are no children it would go to him under the statute of descent. 3. No. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DOUBLE HOLDUP. Chicago, March 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man was held up for a $500 pay roll. He had previously suggested to the firm that they pay the employees off in checks. The firm wants to hold him liable for this.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 17, 1862.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A letter from Hilton Head says they are having great success in teaching the darters, who once were regarded as ignorant, to learn to swim. "They commenced," says the writer, "my academy with fifty of the blackest. The number increases fast. They commit readily and in three days are able to repeat the Lord's prayer, and the beginning of the Lord's creed, and ready to be taught."

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Members of the sanitary commission and others who have visited Manassas assert there is positive evidence, such as to force belief, that the Mississippi soldiers were in the habit of digging up the bodies of national soldiers buried at Bull Run, barking off the flesh, and making the bones into trophies. The skulls are frequent tent ornaments, from leg bones clings were made, from jawbones spoons were constructed. The evidence from various data establishes the fact that the total number of the enemy at Centerville and Manassas never exceeded 100,000 and that within the last six months it was under 40,000.

WINCHESTER.—Ashby's rebel cavalry was driven three miles beyond Newby by a force of federal artillery, infantry, and cavalry.

CAIRO, Ill.—Flag Officer Foote's flotilla dropped down the river until it was about three miles above Island No. 10. At this hour (1 p. m.) we are well within range, but as yet we have heard nothing from the enemy. There appears to be a large force on the Kentucky shore, and we can count with glasses thirteen guns in position on the bluffs. Our mortars, which have been placed in position, will open fire shortly.

ROLLA, Mo.—The remains of Col. Hendricks of the 29th Indiana, who was killed at the battle of Pea Ridge, Ark., arrived here. Those who accompanied him to the battle were having been terrible. The rebels fought desperately, using stones in their cannon when their shot gave out. Their force is placed at 55,000, including 2,500 Indians under Chief Pike. As nearly as can be learned, our loss is 600 killed and 800 to 1,000 wounded. The rebel surgeons acknowledge a loss of 1,100 killed and from 2,500 to 3,000 wounded.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 17, 1902.

WASHINGTON.—Andrew D. White, ambassador to Germany, will retire in November to resume educational work. Former Senator Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado is mentioned as his most likely successor.

WASHINGTON.—Representatives of Chicago Per associations are here to urge measures to authorize another circuit judge for the Seventh judicial district to hold court at Chicago and thus relieve congestion. The delegathumb sucking is always normal and calls for no treatment. They place an ordinary time limit of three years of age. They say to treat thumb sucking only if it has not out of relation to the normal. Children who persist in thumb sucking or nail biting, and who are not easily broken of the habit, are probably unstable in their nervous systems. Many can be trained, but the job is not an easy one. Some can be broken of the habit by the wearing of mitts or by painting quinine on the hands. But in all cases it is important to understand the basic need of training in all matters that make for peace.

DANGER IN MORPHINE.

B. McC. writes: 1. What danger is there of morphine poisoning in taking it for pains? 2. Would an overdose result in death?

REPLY. 1. There is great danger. Much of the morphine habit is started in that way. 2. Yes. Assuming the overdose is large enough.

CHILD IS UNDERWEIGHT.

Mrs. M. M. writes: My daughter, 10 years old, was sent home with a note stating she is 11 pounds underweight. She weighs 38 pounds.

Would you please advise me through the paper what to give her to help build her up. I give her plenty of fresh vegetables and milk and chocolate malted; no tea or coffee; very little meat. The school doctor who examined her said there is nothing physically wrong only the underweight.

She was vaccinated against smallpox and diphtheria. There are three principal causes of underweight in growing children. One is improper or insufficient food. Another is some physical defect, such as infected tonsils. A third is faulty habits. If you are certain that one of the first two is the cause, you still have the third.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to use the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

ST. PATRICK.

What a defiant, daring Saint he must have been! Witty and gentle and gay withal, but free of vanity and conceit—those most wearisome qualities of martyrs and saints. If he had any of either, he lost it when as young Patricius of Gaul, he went—a slave—to the courts of the Irish princes. His subsequent escape when, hunted and heartick, he slept with a cover of mist, was his daring; his life of austere grace at St. Germain and his entrance into holy orders, his gentleness; the kindling of his vehement fires on the Hill of Slane with Ard-Ri Lora's druids feasting at Tara, his defiance, and his wit and gaiety, I suspect, the results of his slavery at the brilliant court of Niall. . . . He was the predecessor perfect for Ireland's later heroes—and heroines. For was it not a girl named Doyle with the sheen of stars in her hair who went as gallantly as the men in the Rising of '98? . . . And was it not one O'Neill Crowley whose blood froze in a scarlet splash on the snow when he died in 1877? The Oisins has chattered away the years down its steep and stony bed, but the spirit of Crowley is never far from Kildonnan Wood. . . . Those tender Irish skies have covered tragedy too often, and death has always lurked where a stone wall dripped with flowers, but Patricius of Gaul set up a standard for bravery and the Irish have never failed to follow.

NOW WE KNOW IT'S SETTLED.

We saw the Rush Street Worm yesterday. He had just crawled out of a crack and was sunning himself in the gorgeous sunshine. Doubt no more. Spring is here, have no fear, tra la lere, tra la lere!

Oh, Undoubtedly.

Dick: Anne Nichols has set aside fifty grand and the income is to supply a guy 89 years old with his needs till he doesn't need 'em. I'll bet he was one of the twins in the original cast of 'Abbie's Irish Rose.'

PATRICK AND OTHER SAINTS.

Not only Patrick, but saints are the rest of them—Cassidy, Shaughnessy, Horan, and Grey; Ten fighting races, but these were the best of them, Where the Meuse winds there is Saint Patrick's Day.

Green with the spring are the fields that cover them; That spot is Ireland where Irishmen die, Foreign though skies may be, home hearts watch over them; In earth that is Irish forever they lie!

THE SOLICITOR.

Oswald Says It's 50-50 Between You and Good Intentions.

To Oswald of Wexham, care Lucifer, Hades-on-the-Sixty: Will you please look around down there and see if the place isn't paved with the contributions that I sent to R. H. L.? I think he must have sent them there, since they have never appeared in the Line. THE GINGHAM GIRL.

THE PRINCE OF WALES, riding one of his own hunters in a race at Bicester yesterday, finished ahead of all the others. No! NOT ONCE! But may be followed our tip and put glue on his saddle.

THE TIME WHEN GOD COMES DOWN.

R. H. L.: St. John's Eve is three months and more away, but the weather is like early summer on Carrickfergus and I've the urge to tell you as many tales of the beginning of the Saint John's Eve bonfires as there are flames on the hilltops of Ireland every twenty-fourth of June; but all told, there are three shamrock leaves of legend on the stem of the old practice of their lighting that you should know.

One of them was told me in an old house on Merlion Square by a great scholar of Ireland. "Teine chand," he gave them the Gaelic naming, "means bone-fires, not bonfires. Pagan? As pagan as the druids who lighted them, and who drove through them on this midsummer eve festival a pair of each herd of their cattle as sacrifice to Bel, their god. The bones of the victims are gone. Gone are the false gods, but names linger, and customs."

There is the thought of the shy, wistful lass in Cuckoo's nest. "Sure, 'tis the night when the wee gray women hide in the hawthorn hedges to wake in us wishes that will never be comin' true," she said, never knowing how she shared belief in the meaning of the Johannesfeuer with the madchens of bad Bavaria. "Arrah, the fire is those dreams, and the smoke is nothin' but the wasps dead ghosts of the hopes we'll always be holdin'!" Highest of all, through the magic of burning blackthorn and rowan, through glory of crimson clouds rising above the soft, sweet earth, shines the tale of an old woman in Wexford. "By the Holy Waf at midnight on Saint John's Eve come down in the form of three snow-white Christ, the Virgin Mary, and Saint John. Though only the pure may see them in their passing, all who watch by the fires may hear the flutter of their wings."

"The time when God, they say, comes down This yearly crowd among With Mary at His Right, And, at His Left, Saint John."

MADISON.

But That Was Long Ago.

RHL: Once I knew a college boy who was not a suicidist. AFTER BEING TOLD two weeks that he couldn't get into Haiti, Senator King says he has changed his mind and will not go. "It is barely possible," says the senator, "that Haiti does not want me in there."

Al Sals, Ask Everybody to Please Stop Buying His Book.

Sir: I hereby suit against Albert J. Bromley, alias Snowshoe Al, for damages done to my side as a result of his latest literary venture. Here I've been laid up in the hospital for two weeks with appendicitis and a friend of mine sends me "The Return of Snowshoe Al" to cheer me up. After the first page I had a spasm of mirth and opened my side by the continual vibration of my laughter. I sue him for his royalty on the book. May he sell a million!

(Signed) APPENDICITIS ANNIE.

ON THIS bright and glorious St. Patrick's Day we renew our vow that this summer we are going to Ireland. And if we say it three times daily with our hand over our heart, maybe the good saint will help us. And we'll do that.

SKIPPING ROPES.

Some day Jane shall Have, she Hopes, Rainbows For her Skipping Ropes.

DOROTHY ALDIS.

We'll Bite, How About It?

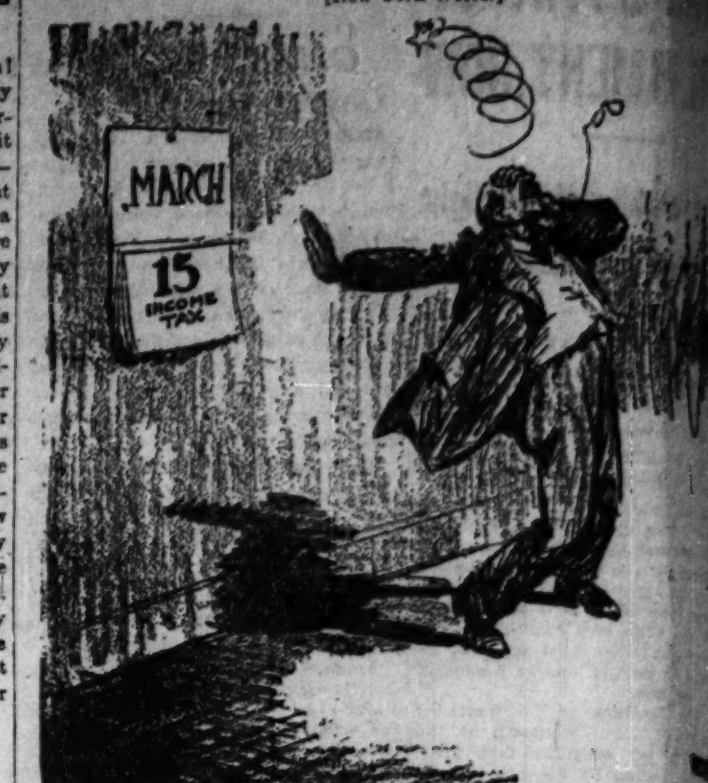

R. H. L.: Speaking of a name for the restaurant for the Lying-In hospital, how about "Toddle Inn"? I ask you, how about it?

TO YOU on this St. Patrick's Day—we wish you the top of the moraine.

THE AGED TRAVELER.

Clinton, Ia., March 15.—I am 81 years of age and since the death of my wife I find it necessary to travel by rail to visit my children. To reach my destination I must pass through Chicago, and while there is ample provision made to transfer passengers from one station to another, there is no provision made for the aged or rheumatic passenger. It is a great strain on me, and others like me, to connect with a taxi that will take me to the other station in time to catch my train.

I have seen porters trundling a truck with a lone suitcase. If a seat were provided on the truck I could very well ride, too. On my trip here last fall I hurried walk from train to taxi caused my feet to be swollen for a month afterward, not to mention a doctor bill, and now that I wish to pass through your city again I am making this appeal to call the attention of railroad officials to this possible act of courtesy to us old people. They have seemingly overlooked us in their otherwise generous provision for the traveling public.

THE COST OF PROHIBITION.

Chicago, March 14.—In yesterday's Tribune Mr. Henning computes the loss to the American farmer in sales due to prohibition as being 4,000,000 bushels of corn per annum, he does not mention the farmers' proportionate increase in taxes, both direct and indirect. I have roughly estimated the cost of prohibition to the farmer at $200,000,000 per annum.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT.

Chicago, March 14.—In reading the editorial of today, in which you invest in foreign securities, as loss to the American farmer in sales due to prohibition as being 4,000,000 bushels of corn per annum, he does not mention the farmers' proportionate increase in taxes, both direct and indirect. I have roughly estimated the cost of prohibition to the farmer at $200,000,000 per annum.

AVIATORS BRAVE BRAZIL JUNGLES T. R. EXPLORED

Wild Beasts and Wild Men
Peril to Italians.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Copyright, 1927. By The Chicago Tribune.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, March 16.—Commander de Pinedo, the Italian aviator, reached Sao Luis de Caceres, in the heart of the Brazilian jungle district, at 2:45 p. m. today. The aviator and his companions in the airplane Santa Maria left Asuncion, Paraguay, at 6:30 a. m. They passed over Corumbá, Brazil, and then flew on to Sao Luis de Caceres, 200 miles farther north.

The aviators' next hop will be to Orla Mirim. From there they will go on north to Manaus, which is about 100 miles from Sao Luis de Caceres. The hundreds of miles of territory over which the Italians must fly on the way to British Guiana is a dense jungle land, with many swamps in which the mud is so deep that the plane, should it fall in one of them, would sink out of sight.

Wild Beasts and Wild Men.
Wild beasts abound in these jungles. Many of them are dangerous, especially the reptiles of the region. As de Pinedo has no radio on his plane he will have no means of communicating with the outer world except, possibly, by means of couriers from some of the savage tribes of the interior. Many of these might be unfriendly.

Another danger lies in the fact that the region he must cross has serious electrical storms at this time of year. The United States army's good will flyers plan to leave here for Victoria, Brazil, at 6 a. m. tomorrow.

Jungles Explored by T. R.
ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 16.—Italy's intrepid long distance aviator, Commander Francesco de Pinedo, and his companions today began a stage of their four continent flight which will take them over the wild Brazilian jungles to British Guiana. The route for some miles parallels the famous "River of Doubt," discovered by President Roosevelt, and now called the Rio Roosevelt.

Benjamin Zuckerman Shot While in Own Doorway
While police last night were trying to identify two men who early in the morning attempted to assassinate Benjamin Zuckerman, 33, restaurant owner, in the vestibule of his home at 1339 South Lawndale avenue, physicians at St. Anthony's hospital said that Zuckerman would recover. Zuckerman was shot twice.

FARMERS' COMPLAINT.
La., March 14.—There is a cyclone, thunder, lightning, and frost. There is the chance of rain, the corn borer, hoof and mouth disease, hog cholera, etc. Prices are low. The farmer now wants price fixing; wants to know how to do with his surplus corn, rice, etc.

COST OF PROHIBITION.
March 14.—In yesterday's Mr. Henning computes the cost of prohibition as being 46 cents per barrel of corn per annum, but mentions the farmers' proper increase in taxes, both direct and indirect. I have roughly estimated the cost of prohibition to the farmer as 60,000 per annum.

INVESTMENTS.
March 14.—In reading your paper today, in which you discuss the cost of prohibition, one is under the impression that you have considered of those investors in foreign securities who have issued prior to, during, and after the war.

ATTACKING CHURCH LOBBIES.
March 14.—If the Times attack the crooked lobby in Washington, Springfield and all over the nation and get the church for the lobby, away from the legislature. But so long as the lobby is permitted to carry on nefarious work, the church lobby is the job.

JOLLY MURDERERS.
March 14.—If they had hung the larceny men on the day the judge sent them to hang they could not have any more and the state would be saving thousands of dollars of two-bit criminals.

RUSSIA MENACES PEKING WARLORD; BREACH WIDENS

This Freedom
HANKOW, China, March 16.—(AP)—Dissatisfied husbands of emancipated wives engaged in a demonstration of protest in front of headquarters of the general labor union here today.

SHANGHAI, March 16.—(AP)—While heavy fighting was reported west and northwest of Shanghai, with an increasing menace to the city of Nanking, reports were received from Tokyo indicating the breach between the adherents of Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian warlord, and the Russian soviets was widening.

The Tokyo report suggested that southern Manchuria was threatened with an armed invasion. If this possibility should become serious, it is felt that Chang Tso-lin, who now is the boss of Peking and the moving factor behind the allied northern armies in their drive on the Cantonese, might be deterred from venturing far from his Manchurian stronghold.

From Honan province Chang Tso-lin claims the capture of the important railroad town of Chengchow after a desperate battle in a snowstorm. This capture, Chang's headquarters stated, completed the first phase of his offensive against the Cantonese.

Nanking Seriously Menaced.—Telegraphic communication between Nanking and Peking, in Anhwei province, has been interrupted, but doubt is expressed here as to whether Peking has been captured by the Nationalists. However, it is believed that Nanking is seriously menaced.

A battle was reported under way along the western shore of Lake Taihu near Iking. Chang Chung-chang was reported concentrating his Shantungese at Soochow and Changchow to prevent cutting off the railway line.

The situation in Wuhu was reported quiet in a telegram received from that city, which only recently was captured by the Cantonese. The acting commissioner of foreign affairs, a local Chinese official, and the native customs assistant, however, were dragged through the streets and beaten by Nationalists, the message said.

Prepare for General Strike.—One hundred and fifty specially picked and trained agitators, who arrived in Shanghai in batches from Hankow, apparently have completely won the good graces of the local labor unions. They are said to be conducting a campaign of intimidation and murder with the object of insuring a solid and prompt response for a general strike when the call is issued.

The nearest translation of the Chinese description of these agitators is "expert intimidators." Under their direction, labor unrest in Shanghai is increasing daily. Their chief object is so to work on their fellow countrymen's fear of personal injury or injury to their families as to create terrorism throughout the ranks of labor and force solidarity when a strike call is issued.

For many days there has been an average of one murder daily in Shanghai of a foreman or some other leader among the workers who opposed the determined efforts were made again today to disorganize traffic on the Shanghai-Nanking railway.

U. S. Marines Recover Two Launches.—LONDON, March 16.—(AP)—American marines quickly recovered two Standard Oil steamers seized this morning by Chinese at Shanghai, says a dispatch from that city to the Westminster Gazette.

HARDING DEFIES COUNTY BOARD; MAILS TAX BILLS

County Treasurer George F. Harding yesterday mailed out 100,000 tax bills to citizens of Chicago. The bills were those made out by his own employees, paid out of his own pocket, and he disregarded more than 2,000,000 tax bills printed by the public service department of the county board under President Anton J. Cermak.

The Harding-Cermak tax argument was scheduled for a hearing tomorrow, but Treasurer Harding decided not to wait for the arguments. His typists are turning out 30,000 personal property tax bills each day, he announced, and they will continue to do so.

The county board insists that it has the power to print the bills by machine, thus affording a substantial saving to the taxpayers. Treasurer Harding declares that he alone has the power to make legal bills.

Mr. Cermak insisted that the dispute should be decided by a court and he introduced a resolution asking that steps toward bringing the case before a judge should be taken. Both he and Treasurer Harding agreed to appear before the county board tomorrow morning in order to bring about a settlement of the matter.

COMMUNISTS TRY TO FIRE MEXICO AGAINST YANKS

Depict U. S. as Crushing
Latin Americans.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, March 16.—The international communist organization is distributing circulars sent from Brussels, Belgium, denouncing in unmeasured terms the United States and calling upon the Mexican people to oppose

American imperialism not only in Mexico but throughout Latin America. The circular is in characteristic communist style and reads, in part:

"Down with the rapacious, murderous Yankee imperialism, death to the cowardly strangulation of little

Nicaragua by the colossus of the north. Long live the struggle of independent nations against militant imperialism. Let us help the fight of internationalism against Yankee capitalism and of the Mexican people against the colossus of the north."

Flatters Mexican Peasant.

The circulars represent the United States as standing triumphantly with its foot on the neck of Nicaragua, prepared to tramp its life out. It charges that the United States intempts to subjugate all Latin America as soon as it is done with Nicaragua and Mexico.

It flatters the Mexican peasant and laborer, asserting they will be the first to rebel against the American imperialism, pillage and exploitation of the nations of Latin America, thus forming an inspiration for other

Latin Americans.

Claims U. S. Threatens Invasion.

The circular asserts Washington has threatened Mexico with armed invasion and says President Calles and all Mexicans must be on guard, ever ready to defend the Mexican sovereignty. The circular admits the communists are interested in Mexico because of their fight on the United States government, asserting the communists will ever aid Mexico in the anti-American campaign to the limit.

The circular says the United States has vast plans for colonization of all Latin American countries with Americans, so as to have political as well as commercial control. It concludes with the assertion that the communists are fighting a battle with out quarrel against all nations of the world where capitalism in the communist sense prevails, which it develops from the circular includes every country except Russia. Apparently no attempt is being made here to prevent the distribution of the communist circulars.

City Asks Court to Reopen

Fight for Higher Taxes

Another attempt was made yesterday by the school board and the city to compel the board of review to add about $1,000,000,000 to the full valuation of improved real estate, chiefly affecting 9,200 specific parcels in the state Supreme court to review the decision of Judge William Gemmill in the Superior court, who refused to issue board of review to make the readjustments demanded by the city and the board.

SENATOR KING ABANDONS PLAN TO VISIT HAITI

BY L. PARDO.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SANTO DOMINGO, March 16.—

Senator William H. King (Dem.,

Utah), who arrived here this morning from San Juan, Porto Rico, has decided not to visit Haiti. He said he feared his visit might cause a clash between the American military forces

there and the people. The senator was barred from landing in Haiti by President Berne because of Mr. King's attacks on the president in the United States senate.

Upon his return to the United States, Mr. King said, he will renew his efforts to compel the withdrawal of Brig. Gen. John Henry Russell, American high commissioner at Port au Prince, and the American forces.

The Haitian border police have been strengthened to prevent Mr. King from crossing from Santo Domingo to Haiti or to arrest him.

Mr. King is universally acclaimed here as a friend of the small states and an exponent of liberalism and justice, and there is great indignation here over the order denying him access to Haiti. The United States and Brig.

Gen. Russell are blamed for President

Berne's action, the latter acting on

Brig. Gen. Russell's orders, it is claimed.

The Haitian delegation, headed by Pierre Hudicourt, lawyer and former delegate to the international court at

The Hague, stated preparations had been made to welcome the senator to Haiti, and many thousands Haitians were gathering in the capital to greet him. He was urged to defy President

Berne's order and enter Haiti.

"Champagne d'honneur" was offered by President Vasquez, who heartily expressed his gratitude to Mr. King for his valuable collaboration in behalf of San Domingo. This afternoon "champpagne d'honneur" was offered at the municipal palace.

REDISTRICTING WINS AND LOSES IN NIP-TUCK FIGHT

Chicagoans Halt Limiting of Representation.

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—(Special.)—Redistricting won a little ground and lost a little in the state legislature today.

For more than an hour Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago led a fight to prevent the acceptance of a house committee report approving the Roe resolution which would limit Cook county perpetually to its present representation. In the end, the Schnackenberg forces made their point and the committee report was "received," not "accepted," and the resolution placed on the calendar.

Chicago Foes Win in Senate.
In the senate, however, the Hicks resolution, which would grant full representation in the house but limit Cook county to nineteen senators, appeared in the senate reapportionment committee and found Cook county's guardians asleep at the switch. The resolution was reported out approved by a vote of nine to two.

In the house Representatives Arthur Roe of Vandalia, who introduced the resolution, and Lee O'Neill Browne, of Ottawa, led the forces which wanted the committee report adopted.

Vote Shows Way of the Wind.
Incidentally, the debate provoked a vote, the first in the house during this session concerned with reapportionment, which was regarded as throwing some light on the house's feeling in the matter. It is indicated that reapportionment, even the Daley resolution which only provides that a committee shall be appointed to remap the state, must make more converts before it can count on success.

The Roe resolution had passed the judiciary committee, 20 to 9, yesterday. "If we accept the report," Mr. Schnackenberg declared, "it is equivalent to putting us on record in favor of the committee's approval."

"The senate passed the Daley resolution to reapportion Illinois according to the existing constitution," Mr. Schnackenberg declared. "This resolution is now in our judiciary committee, where it will receive a public hearing, as the committee chairman and others of us believe it should. The Roe resolution has received only a ten minute discussion in committee. It would change the constitution and disenfranchise a large portion of the voters of this state. It is now brought abruptly before us. In fairness to us who come from districts far over the senatorial quotient and who feel that the present constitution ought first to be obeyed, we ought to be given time for a full discussion, a field day, if you please, on which every one can discuss the question in a decorous manner."

SIDETRACK MOVE FOR PROBE OF CHICAGO CRIME

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—(Special.)—Once more Chicago crime was tossed into the legislative arena today for legislators to wrangle over. Senator Adolph Marks of the First district in Chicago did the tossing with a resolution calling for a committee of seven senators to make an investigation of crime conditions in Chicago and report back by March 29. The purpose of the resolution was broadened by making it apply also to other portions of the state.

"The law abiding citizens of the state are disturbed by the amount of crime prevalent in late years in Chicago and throughout the state," the resolution began, "and by the difficulty which apparently exists in bringing about the conviction of the persons guilty of the crimes."

It provided that the committee sessions be held in Chicago and other places to be designated. "This legislation should pass a resolution praising any particular race or creed. We are a cosmopolitan democracy and such an action would be unbecoming."

Mr. Castle called for a rising vote. Mr. Igoe went him one better and called for a roll call.

St. Patrick and the Irish heroes pulled through by a vote of 57 to 2. Representative Bert Miller of Kankakee voting with Mr. Castle.

The house appropriations committee appointed a subcommittee of five headed by Representative John P. Devine of Dixon to take up the Johnson bills calling for an appropriation of $300,000 for a state reformatory for women.

Castle of Barrington objected to the unanimous adoption of a St. Patrick's day resolution offered by Representative Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, minority leader. The resolution praised American heroes of Irish extraction.

"I object to its adoption," Mr. Castle said. "This legislature should pass no resolution praising any particular race or creed. We are a cosmopolitan democracy and such an action would be unbecoming."

"Only Round Oaks Could Do It"

W. L. PLEW & COMPANY
DES PLAINES, ILLINOIS.
Home Builders
Real Estate - Mortgages

February 29, 1927.

Round Oak Heating Company,
711 South Wells Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen:-

My acquaintance with the Round Oak Folks dates from infancy. When I was born in Indiana in 1885 my parents' home was heated with a Round Oak Stove. Their home is today being heated with the same Round Oak Stove.

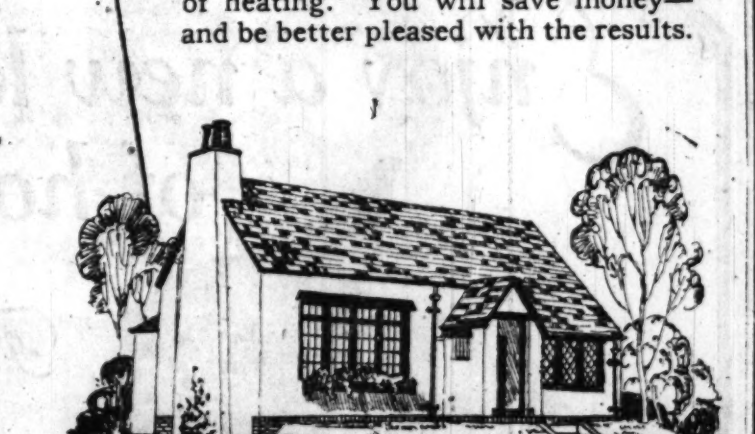

Naturally, the salesman who approached me when we started to build our first group of ten bungalows in the spring of 1916 did not have much of a job selling me on the quality and reliability of Round Oak Furnaces.

All our experience has been so uniformly satisfactory with Round Oak furnaces that we would not think of installing an inferior hot air heating plant just to save a few dollars. I realize we can almost beat your figures but that is not the point. A home buyer must have an adequate heating plant and one that need not be replaced for many years. This is especially true of the second mortgage is paid replacement of a heating plant before the second mortgage is paid off would, in many instances, be a calamity.

The care you give your installations and the efficiency of your furnaces is such that every room in every home we sell is adequately heated even in the coldest weather. This produces a friendship and loyalty on the part of our buyers that money cannot buy. Their enthusiasm over their comfortable houses is a big sales help to us.

If reputation and good will means anything to a builder I do not see how he can afford to overlook the Round Oak Folks when he is buying heating plants.

Yours very truly,
W. L. PLEW & COMPANY.
W. L. Plew

Our Round Oak Furnace came through with flying colors. All winter our house has been 72 degrees all over.

It is quick to respond in the morning and our fuel consumption has been six tons of coke up to March 1st. Best of all has been the moist air—never dry—no sluggish feeling.

I heartily recommend "Round Oak" for economical heat and health.

990 Jeanette Ave., Des Plaines, Ill., Feb. 28, 1927.

We find we have no trouble in keeping the house at the proper temperature in way below zero weather. We find the ROUND OAK Furnace very satisfactory and economical to run and can fully recommend it.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY THE STORE FOR MEN

"The Tribune ad service is really unlimited judging from the many calls we received when we advertised a refrigerator. We sold it at a satisfactory price and highly recommend The Tribune."

MRS. ROBERT REPLEGE, 2142 Touhy Avenue.

Refrigerator Sold at a Good Price Through One Tribune Want Ad!

The desire for crisp vegetables in salads and symmetrical ice cubes for lemonades and things, is leading many families to purchase electric refrigerators.

If you are considering a similar step, you will naturally wish to sell your old ice box at a fair price and thus lower the cost of the electric model. The experience of Mrs. Robert Replege of 2142 Touhy Avenue offers a valuable selling tip. One Tribune Want Ad brought many calls for her refrigerator and sold it quickly at a very satisfactory price.

Any household article will bring a higher price if you sell direct to the buyer. A Tribune Want Ad will attract prospective buyers, and do it quickly and inexpensively. Phone—

Beethoven's 9th Symphony Is Pick of Air

Elmer Finds WLS Program One of Perfection.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

We have learned to expect almost anything from radio, but it would be difficult to surmise how it could rise to greater heights than that of the programs last night.

For among the many programs of sheer enjoyment and musical excellence we were privileged to hear a remarkably magnificent and remarkably clear broadcast of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, orchestra hall, WLS, 9:34 to 10:34, and a purely radio program by Elmer Zimbalist from New York City, WJZ-KYW, 8 to 9.

The radio audience is quite familiar with Mr. Zimbalist's fully rounded tone and strong, manly style—a style that is most effective in broadcasts. But his playing of the second and third movements of Mendelssohn's Concerto in E minor revealed something new in beauty of tone. His shorter selections were also a delight to hear.

The Arabian Nights entertainment, W-G-N, 8:45 to 10, was again one of the regular Wednesday evening highlights. On the list of excellent works not often heard was Sibelius' colorful "Finlandia."

The lecture on "The Field of Infinite Interests and Fulfillments," by Robert Morse Lovett, WMAQ, 8:10 to 9, was one of those deeper expositions on matters scientific that illustrate the opportunities of radio in the scientific and intellectual field.

Howard Melaney, the "singing fireman" (baritone), W-G-N, 10:30, gave us a bit of old Erin in song. Incidentally it was announced that Mr. Melaney is a protégé of Mrs. Schumann-Heink.

Miss Helen Rowe, pianist, WHT, 10:30 to 11—just about as nimble fingered and lovely toned as one could imagine, closed with a nice little speech in which she wished us "the top of the morning."

RECOUNT RAISES ALBERT'S HOPE FOR ELECTION

Hopes of A. F. Albert [48d] for a runoff election against his opponent, Titus Haffa, who, on the face of first returns, was victorious, were raised somewhat yesterday when a recount of the ballots was completed by the election commissioners.

Of a total of 11,115 undisputed votes cast, Haffa had 5,625; Albert, 4,901, and Michael Wolf, a third candidate, 158. Although Haffa thus retains a majority of 155 votes, 345 ballots were thrown out because they were spoiled.

Albert's attorneys hold that the spoiled ballots were "cast" and must therefore be included in reckoning "the majority of all votes cast," which the victor must win. Most of the spoiled ballots, Albert says, were marked for him.

Judge Edmund K. Jarecki will hear arguments on the disputed ballots this morning.

WRINGER KILLS BABY.

Roland Belman, 2 years old, was killed yesterday when he was struck in the abdomen by a heavy wringer on a washing machine while in the rear yard of his home on the Waukegan road in Morton Grove. The baby's mother was in the house at the time of the accident.

(Thursday, March 17.)

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Standard Time Throughout.)

EUGENE O. SYKES, who has been selected as temporary chairman of the radio commission appointed by President Coolidge following the passage of the new radio bill, will be heard in a short talk tonight at 6:45 o'clock over W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Mr. Sykes will make his talk in Washington and it will be brought to W-G-N's transmitter by telephone lines. In making his first appearance before the radio audience, the new ruler of the ether expects to discuss the various aspects of the new radio law, the work of the commission, and what it intends to do to untangle the present chaotic radio situation.

As on St. Patrick's days in the past, W-G-N will present again tonight its beautiful little radio production entitled, "Mother Macree's Magic Carpet," a faithful radio trip over the beloved spots of ancient Erin. It will go on the air at 10:10 o'clock. During this St. Patrick's day feature listeners will hear the best of the melodies and folk songs of the Emerald Isle, which will be presented by members of the W-G-N vocal group and studio ensemble.

Between 8 and 10 o'clock two New York programs will be featured over W-G-N; the Eskimos with their variety of rollicking music at 8 and Henry Burr and his talented assisting artists at 9 o'clock.

During the Woman's club period, 9 to 9:30 p. m., Emoryene Grinnell will talk on "The Early American Fur-trading." This will be especially interesting because of the recent revival of this mode and its popularity in furnishing the modern home.

"Woman's Reformatory" will be the topic of the address to be given by Miss Jessie Binford of the League of Illinois Women Voters.

POLICE CLOSING NET ON $182,000 PAYROLL BANDITS

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 16.—(AP)—The roundup of a bandit gang held responsible for four sensational pay roll robberies in the Pittsburgh district and the murder of two guards was believed imminent by authorities tonight. Loot totaling $182,000 was carried away.

Officers declared they expected shortly to arrest desperadoes named today in a confession by Paul Jaworski, a suspect held in the investigation of the $104,000 pay roll robbery of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company at Covertville last week.

Jaworski, the district attorney said, admitted the gang held up a Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company automobile at Mollenauer, Dec. 24, 1935, killed J. J. Gump, a guard, and escaped with $47,000. Two years previous, on Dec. 23, 1933, he was quoted as saying the same robber band stole a $23,000 pay roll of the Pittsburgh Coal company at Beading after killing Ross Dennis, paymaster.

Tour in Illinois Good Roads and No Gas Tax

ILLINOIS should be a tourist state. We have beauty spots; spots of historic interest; good roads; and no gas tax.

Public minded citizens interested in making Illinois a popular tourist state should help to spread information regarding Illinois' many beautiful spots; the people of the country should be told about our places of historic interest. We should encourage touring in Illinois by discouraging any talk of a gas tax.

The Chicago Motor Club has done much to spread the story of the advantages of touring in Illinois. We now ask all those interested in promoting touring in Illinois to help us in our fight against a gas tax.

Let us enter your name as an opponent of any gas tax measure. Send the coupon today.

Announcing the opening of THE WORLD'S FINEST NEWSPAPER PLANT New Home of the Pittsburgh Press

"Literally the finest newspaper plant in the world"—this is the verdict of architects, engineers, publishers who have inspected the new home of the Pittsburgh Press.

Erected at a cost of more than $4,000,000, it represents the latest word in efficiency, equipment and design.

Fifteen years ago, when the former Pittsburgh Press building was erected, large floor areas were provided for future expansion, but the growth of the Press in recent years has overleaped the most sanguine expectations.

So completely does the Pittsburgh Press meet the reading preferences of metropolitan Pittsburgh that nine out of ten families choose it for their daily reading.

Month after month and year after year the circulation of this dominant newspaper continues to grow. Advertising lineage, too, increases at a rate which exceeds all previous records.

The average net paid circulation of the Press, daily, for four months ending January 31, is 194,557. Circulation of the Press, Sunday, for the same period is 256,293.

In Greater Pittsburgh, which includes the corporate city of Pittsburgh and fifty-four nearby boroughs and towns, the latest authentic figures available for comparison show that the Press, daily, has 37,005 more net paid circulation than both other evening newspapers combined, and the Press, Sunday, has 23,177 more net paid circulation than both other Sunday newspapers combined!

Despite the fact that, prior to the completion of the new plant the lack of adequate equipment and facilities made it necessary to omit thousands of lines of advertising each week, the Pittsburgh Press in 1926 carried the great total of 25,258,730 lines of paid advertising—a gain of 1,761,338 lines over 1925. In 1926 the Press also exceeded in lineage any two other Pittsburgh newspapers combined and stood seventh among the great metropolitan newspapers of the world!

The gigantic mass of stone, cement and steel pictured above is a symbol of the power and strength of Press leadership, of the reader-faith of the people of the Pittsburgh territory, of the increased service now offered to readers and advertisers.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Four ten round bouts, featuring championship contenders, make up the card promoter James Mullen will present at the Coliseum tonight.

Deve Shade of California, generally considered a dangerous contender for the middleweight crown worn by Mickey Walker, will meet Kid Herman, the Mexican. Fans who saw Shade whip Wolcott last night at a recent Coliseum show think he will win tonight.

Shade and Herman met a few years ago in Galveston, Tex., and each was sent to the canvas. Herman floored Shade twice, while Deve dropped his opponent on five occasions. Herman, however, believes he can defeat the Californian and will try to put away Shade from the top of the bell. They will scale 160 pounds.

White Battles Myers.

Leo P. Flynn, manager of Shade, arrived in Chicago yesterday and told promoter Mullen to secure Walker's signature to a set of articles. Leo also informed the promoter to give the champion what he asks for and will be satisfied with what is left.

Billie White of Jersey City, regarded as one of the hardest right hand punchers in the game, will clash with Sping Myers of Idaho in another ten rounder. It is the opinion of eastern fight managers that Myers will take a few counts during the ten round fracas.

Myers is set on winning this bout, for he realizes a victory will place him in a position to demand a match with Sammy Mandell for the world's lightweight title. He is also eager to meet Calahan for the world's junior welterweight championship. Lou Diamond, manager of White, believes it will be his battler who will meet Calahan for the 140 pound title. Lou admits Billy is not a lightweight and a match with Mandell is out of the question. White and Myers will weigh 135 pounds.

Routis to Fight Lenard.

Andre Routis, the French featherweight, who Manager Pete Riley claims is the logical 125 pound championship contender, will trade punches with Henry Lenard of South Chicago in one of the other ten rounders. Routis is clever and hits fairly hard. Whether he will be able to penetrate the awkward southpaw defense of Lenard remains to be seen. The weight for this fight will be 125 pounds.

Johnny Hill, the Filipino, who has defeated Ray Miller and Henry Lenard as well as other top notch 126 pounders, will meet Andy Martin of Boston in the other bout of ten rounds. As most fans know, the Filipino is awkwardly clever. He uses sly tactics at times and then shifts to the orthodox methods. He hits fairly hard with his right hand. Martin is an aggressive battler, who will do his share of the leading. They will weigh 126 pounds.

BALTIMORE CAGE
TEAM BATTLES
BRUINS TONIGHT

Preceded by a basketball game between the Taylor Trunk girls' team and the Christ church men's team, the Chicago Bruins will meet the Baltimore Oriole pro quintet in an American league game tonight at the Broadway armory. The Taylor Trunks have been defeated but once this year, but it is the first time they have ever played a man's team.

Since Baltimore appeared last on the north side Johnny Beckman, star forward of the New York Celtics, has joined the outfit.

of the Boxers

TRIP LIMBACO, the Filipino flyweight, and Harold Smith of the stockyards will be the principals in the windup of the boxing show at the C. A. A. on Saturday night. Ralph Mendon and Mickey McLaughlin will meet in the semi-windup.

They Cassner, the New York Italian who will meet Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., for the world's bantamweight championship will be the principals in the windup of the boxing show at the C. A. A. on Sunday to complete training. They will be here on Monday, according to Manager Eddie Lou. Promoter Mullen will give the winner a diamond studded belt emblem of the world's 115 pound champion.

The Illinois boxing club will put on another show at 1023 Broadway on March 23. Tiger Jack Burns will be one of the principals in the windup.

Frankie Genaro, former flyweight champion, arrived in Chicago yesterday for his second bout with Willie La Morte of Cleveland at White City on Monday night.

Tunney Decries
Flat Chested,
Skinny Women

Los Angeles, Cal., March 16.—[U. N.]—Gene Tunney thinks that American women are "too skinny" and he offers a remedy for the condition.

The world's heavyweight champion, an eligible bachelor, who has previously fought shy of making public an opinion that might embroil him in controversy, other than pugilistic, has given his idea of feminine puichitude.

"The average American woman," Tunney said, "is flat chested, hollow cheeked and pale, just for the sake of style, and it's all wrong. I think women should have rosy cheeks, and they should be robust and have bright eyes and a quick gait. But it seems that social life and the present mode for thinness is defeating nature."

"Women who want to be slender should eat strengthening foods that do not produce fat. This is an easy matter, but most women prefer starving themselves to adopting a scientific diet."

"If I tell you that I prefer brunettes," Tunney said, "then all the blondes in the country would be saying, 'What a foul ball he turned out to be.'"

"Outside of a healthy look, the thing I like best in women is sincerity."

Beet Seeds Will Lure Songbirds
to Your Garden

BY BOB BECKER.

Don't forget the songbirds when you plan your garden this spring. It's surprising how many species can be attracted by fruit bearing shrubs which can be made a feature in your front or back yard. And these same bushes will house many nests before fruiting time.

We are considering several fruit bearing shrubs for our yard this spring including the high bush cranberry and the elderberry. Dr. Charles Ross of Mineral Point, Wis., in one bird fan who has been planting to get more songbirds around the house and he has been telling us about luring flocks of gold finches by plantings of an ordinary garden vegetable.

For many years he has been putting in beet seeds (many plantings) and nearly every day during the growing season the gold finches can be seen feeding on the tender young shoots. They're cheerful, colorful, little birds and the doctor advises bird fans to get them in their yards if they can.

ZBYSZKO READY FOR ZICKMUND

Wladek Zbyszko, who meets Joe Zickmund in one of the bouts of Doc Krone's wrestling show at the Ashland boulevard auditorium tomorrow night, arrived in Chicago yesterday and put in a busy afternoon at the Mullen gymnasium. Hans Steinkne, the Teutonic giant, meets Joe Varga in another bout.

Walter Evans, former mat instructor at the University of Illinois, will meet Midget Fisher of Wisconsin in the semi-windup to the Johnny Meyers-Lou Talaber finish match for the world's middleweight title at the Broadway armory on Tuesday night.

Small Again
Promises to Widen Roads

BY J. L. JENKINS.

The North avenue state highway leading directly west from Chicago—route 64 on the Illinois $100,000,000 bond issue system—will be improved with a 46-foot concrete pavement as soon as the state highway forces can clear decks for the work, according to the most recent promises made by Gov. Len Small and department heads.

This promise, made to 460 delegates from Chicago, Oak Park, River Forest, Austin, Elmhurst, St. Charles, Sycamore and other points along the route, carries with it one of the first open bids for northern Illinois support of the proposed 2 cents a gallon tax on gasoline and a strong indication that new pavements will be traded by the administration for support of the gas tax.

"We are going to get started on route 64 as quickly as we are able," Gov. Small told the delegation in Springfield, "and we will make the pavement 46 feet wide if we can."

His promise followed a talk by Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, who declared that a gas tax must be voted if the new bond issue roads are to be built before 1942, and indicated clearly that the administration intends to continue the policy of trading roads for political support.

Organization in opposition to the proposed gasoline tax, which now includes automobile clubs and commercial clubs in various parts of the state, was augmented yesterday by announcement of the formation of a new "Association Opposed to the Gasoline Tax," with headquarters at 107 North Clark street. H. George Russell is president of the new association.

SHORT COVERING ADVANCES WHEAT AFTER EARLY DIP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

An overcast condition was disclosed in the wheat market after an opening decline of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{8}$ which carried the May off to $\$1.37\frac{1}{2}$ equaling the inside figure of Tuesday. Short covering developed, and with a scarcity of offerings prices advanced $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ from the low point and the finish was at the top with net gains of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{8}$. May closed at $\$1.38\frac{1}{2}$; July at $\$1.32\frac{1}{2}$; and September, $\$1.30\frac{1}{2}$.

Corn developed independent strength, and with local and commission house buying, prices advanced and closed $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, with May $\$1.10\frac{1}{2}$ and September $\$1.08\frac{1}{2}$. Oats were up $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$, with May $\$1.05\frac{1}{2}$ and September $\$1.03\frac{1}{2}$. Rye gained $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$, with May $\$1.05\frac{1}{2}$ and September $\$1.03\frac{1}{2}$.

No Pressure on Wheat.

Business in Liverpool wheat, which was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{8}$ lower on the poor milling demand abroad, and the continued favorable crop reports from the winter wheat belt were factors in inducing selling early, but the technical position had been materially strengthened of late by the decline and it took but little buying to start values upward, and there was limited pressure on the advance. Selling against offers was a factor in checking the bulge.

A decrease of 2,113,000 bu in the world's available supply attracted little attention with total stocks of 251,457,000 bu, against 256,042,000 bu last year. Winnipeg was $\frac{1}{8}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher for the day, while Buenos Aires was up $\frac{1}{8}$. May there closed at $\$1.29\frac{1}{2}$ and June $\$1.24\frac{1}{2}$.

More Bulls in Corn.

Sentiment locally was more friendly to the buying side of corn, and with a moderate increase in trade the advance was easily attained, commission houses taking the buying side on a small scale. Profit taking and selling against offers checked the upturn. The market falling off in the movement in the west, primary arrivals being 374,000 bu, against 1,000,000 bu a week ago, and 655,000 bu last year, attracted attention. Country offerings to arrive, however, were larger, with purchases of 65,000 bu for June and July shipment, largely from Illinois points.

The shipping demand continues to be reported as slow. Buenos Aires closed $\frac{1}{8}$ higher, with May $\$1.24\frac{1}{2}$ and June $\$1.19\frac{1}{2}$. Buying of oats by shorts and by houses with eastern connections disclosed light offerings, and the market advanced and closed at the top.

Scattered liquidation was on in rye early, but the market developed a better undertone later, and rallied in sympathy with wheat. Germany was reported as after rye at the seaboard.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Strength in the Chicago wheat market, with a small advance, led to a belief at the close that in case Liverpool cables reflected a fair part of the upturn here, values would be strengthened and a better feeling created.

A feature of the corn trade was the liberal selling by a leading cash house around 77 $\frac{1}{2}$ for May and buying by nearly half a dozen of active local professionals, who are bullish, some of them being credited with having wheat sold and corn bought. One of the active elevator houses bought May and sold July at $\$1.38\frac{1}{2}$ premium for the July.

President John A. Russell of the Chicago Board of Trade returned yesterday from the south.

A bullish view of the corn situation is taken by George E. Saunders of the Armour Grain company. He believes present prices for futures fully discount the depressed cash situation.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

The continent was a good buyer of wheat with 2 million of around 1,000,000 bu. largely domestic No. 1 hard T. b. New York, last 10 days March loading brought 14c over Chicago May, while No. 2 Manitoba sold at 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ c over New York, the last premium on the crop. Germany was after 72c, but no sales were reported.

SPRING WEATHER
GIESSEMPETUS TO TRADE, INDUSTRY

BY O. A. MATHER.

Business and industry is feeling the impetus of early spring weather. The steel industry is booming along, the automobile plants are expanding production, and the railroads are carrying an unprecedented volume of commodities for this season of year.

"The output of steel continues at the high level that usually makes March a peak month," the Iron Age says. "The fifteen days have brought the industry close to a 90 per cent of input capacity operations, but there is an excess over current requirements and this is going toward piling reserves against any tossing of bituminous coal mining after April 1. Agreement is general that only a long drawn out dispute can seriously affect production of steel."

New Orders Balance Shipments.

The flow of specifications and new orders in the heavy tonnage steel production in the Chicago district, but in moving eastward the conditions so far in March show a decreasing margin of excess over the February bookings.

"Some expansion in demand is noted from the automobile industry, and in the further railroad car buying is under active consideration, and the oil industry, despite the decline in fuel oil prices, gives promise, on top of the urgent need for oil tanks for storing the heavy output of oil, to do considerable drilling."

The Iron Age places operations for the whole steel industry at about 88 per cent of capacity, with the United States Steel corporation running above 95 per cent.
Both pig iron and finished steel prices are stronger.

Weather Aids Motor Industry.

Pine weather has given a decided upturn to automobile selling and business is better than was generally predicted earlier in the year.

"A large proportion of the factories have begun to ship production, the outstanding exception being Ford, which is marking time pending the introduction of changed models." Automotive Industries says. "Although the total output for the industry is thus adversely affected, for the companies extensive Ford business are well above the level of a year ago. Territorial influences are seen and southern sales are not as satisfactory as the volume in other parts of the country. For the national finance companies, the average of payment on time is the highest point for the season in recent years."

Increase in Freight Traffic.

The American railroads last night reported a total of 99,931 cars loaded with revenue freight in the week ended March 5. This marked an increase of 71,082 cars over the preceding week, when traffic was somewhat reduced by the Washington birthday holiday, but it also was a gain of 29,922 cars over a year ago.

CONTINUATION OF U. S. PROSPERITY SEEN BY LEECH

BY HARPER LEECH.

Any unjaundiced view of the statistics of production and trade available since Jan. 1, leads to confirmation of the belief that the American economic machine is showing the same symptoms of balancing which marked 1925 and 1926. That we have definitely evolved into a new industrial equilibrium, which can only be seriously upset by some great psychic storm, is the clear message of the times. This column expressed that opinion after the stock market slump of a year ago, and expects to reiterate it, if we have another.

Recessions in some lines of business now appear to be more quickly counterbalanced by increases in others. Despite much discussed slumps in some of the lines, which showed phenomenal progress last year, we witness for the first time in weeks of the present year the loading of 240,000 more cars of revenue freight than for the same period of 1926.

The remarkable manner in which building has been holding up, repeatedly disappointing the prophets of "saturation" and the deductions drawn from the theory that the building of recent years has been mainly an effort to make up a definite shortage, is another symptom of new basic conditions.

Over a year ago it was remarked here that no one has a right to assume that future demand for building can be predicted on past demand.

The enhanced living standard of the people is bound to be reflected in new structures of all kinds and in demand for new buildings, new sporting stadiums, tracks, new roadways, new parks and recreation structures of all kinds. We have something that is simply incapable of "saturation," short of the reconstruction of the continent.

The new banking law and the refinancing of the government debts will combine to release more capital for investment in real estate and structures and also to stimulate the demand for municipalities. The ever increasing pressure on industrialists to cut production costs in the face of a falling tide of wholesale prices and narrow margins of profit makes certain a great amount of industrial reconstruction.

When the war time restrictions were laid upon building, per capita savings of the people measured in savings deposits, building and loan payments, and insurance premiums were half what they are today. Year before last in 274 cities one family dwellings alone constituted 41.7 per cent of all new buildings and 38.2 per cent of new building costs. It is evident that the speculative aspects of recent building construction have been more spectacular than important, and that the mainspring behind the constructive flair of the American people today is their great fund of savings, accumulated as a by product of their new standards of productivity and consumption.

Sellers held little advantage in the hog market yesterday and prices weakened as the day progressed.

Information of 40,000 additional hogs on the way for today's market added to the depression late. Market broke 10@25; heavy butchers declining sharply on dull closing rounds, with medium and light finishing comparatively steady at early losses.

Top and average hog prices lower 16c at 12.00 and 11.50, respectively, lowest since Monday of last week.

Receipts promised to exceed 30,000, the largest Wednesday run of the year. The large total to the west was a weakening factor, Omaha reporting 22,000 and Sioux City 20,000. A feature of the trade was the switching of several large local orders to light and light butchers, in preference to weighty hogs.

Buyers were unable to force additional declines in cattle, despite another moderate increase in receipts. Trading continued slow, with the absence of prime weighty beefs holding the peak price down to 12.25, paid for good 1,440 lb. averages. Good 1,150 lb. steers stopped at 11.15 and 650 lb. averages at 11.15.

Butcher stock showed little change. Fancy baby beef heifers averaging 744 lb., reached 11.00. Calves weakened again, selling mostly 50c below last week's close. Stockers and feeders remained steady.

Reports from dressed meat channels

Were unsatisfactory and fresh price cuts were scored in the market for live lambs, better grades falling 15@25c. Top declined 35c at 15.25, lowest since February 25, but 50c above the corresponding day a year ago. Sheep receipts are running below normal, the seven market total first half of the week at 102,000 being below any corresponding period in over five years and 50,000 below a year ago. Aged sheep held firm, handy even as high as 15.50.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle, 40,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, against 11,112 cattle, 32,590 hogs and 12,473 sheep, the previous Thursday and 10,184 cattle, 35,455 hogs and 13,003 sheep, a year ago.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and North Western Railway Company will be held at the office of the Company, 220 West Jackson Boulevard, in the City of Chicago, on Tuesday, April 12, 1927, at eleven o'clock a. m., for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting.

The books for the transfer of stock will be closed on Thursday, March 16, 1927, at the close of business on that day, and will be reopened on Wednesday, April 12, 1927.

Dated, February 15, 1927.

JOHN D. CALDWELL, Secretary.

$170,000 an hour

DURING the year 1925 investors bought $1,325,000,000 of new securities of American public utility companies. New money flowed into these companies at the rate of $4,098,000 a day, or $170,700 an hour.

There must have been a very good reason for this vast investment in one type of securities during one year, and for the investment of nearly five billion dollars in these securities during the period from 1921 through 1925.

There was such a reason. It is found in the faith which investors, large and small, have in the safety of these securities—a faith based on many years of experience under varying business and financial conditions.

Your investment holdings should include some of the bonds of strong public utility companies. Our current list of offerings will help you in selecting issues suited to your needs.

Wrinkles Write the Story of Emotions All Over the Face

"Wrinkles are creases or ruts, more or less deep, found in the skin by the effect of time, or by the repeated action of certain muscular contractions, or as the result of faulty nutrition."

Thus Dr. Richard W. Mueller explains the lines most dreaded by women.

To a certain degree, Dr. Mueller says, they are visible proofs of the sentiments and passions which have been most experienced.

When it is said of a girl or woman, "Her life is beginning to tell on her," it is not the hardening of the expression alone that tells her world on her. Wrinkles come early and abundantly among nervous people, Mueller says, among the emaciated of both sexes, and generally among those subject to passion or an intense psychological life.

I could offer a tragic example of what a life lived too swiftly can do to one still in her early twenties. She came from the proverbial small town—choir singer and all the press agent good background of a calm young life. At 19 she was caught in the butterfly wheels that spin around the gay night life. Drinking, smoking, dancing nightly in crowded, ill-ventilated clubs, meeting men who whined and dined her, demanding in return a display of emotions that whatever they were, were at least destructive of calm nerves. She is a very, very tired woman of 23 today, vertical wrinkles in the forehead, crow's feet, and deep indentations from the corners of the nose to the angle of the mouth. Her mother's face is young in comparison.

Before consulting the wrinkle-removing experts whose remedies are local, one should ask if she is going to give her face an even break, from the emotional standpoint. The local measures are all right, but only after calm is restored to nerves. Drinking, dissipation, keeping bad hours aren't the only wrinkle producers. There's worry, haste, lack of system in one's affairs, and then there is that habit of childhood that clings often to adults to create and wrinkle up the face with the mere telling of an anecdote.

The vertical wrinkles of the forehead, Mueller says, are normal after 40 and most frequent among brain workers, and crow's feet are premature before 40. They appear at the outer angles of the eyes.

Everything that disturbs the quietude of life should be avoided, warns the eminent skin authority, since wrinkles are the expression of what occupies one.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

T. E. F.: A CUP OF COCOA OR A glass of hot milk, with a few crackers, will induce sleep. It is not well to eat a hearty meal of hot food, but eating lightly will not harm a person whose digestion is good.

R. E. V.: WATER IS NOT TO BE avoided without restriction. Drink plenty of it, as it dissolves and carries out of the body a large amount of the broken down material resulting from diet and exercise. It helps regulate proper functioning of the kidneys and digestive apparatus, and a drink of water chases away the hunger pang.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Murphies for St. Patrick.

Probably more can be done appropriately in the way of edibles suited to it with the Irish potato than in any other way. One of the uses made of it a year or two ago, notes the Tribune, was to make of mashed potato "wild Irish roses." Potato roses made with a pastry bag are not difficult to make, and probably they will be wild enough if an amateur makes them, so we would recommend that the amateur get safety on this day by attempting them.

Potatoes roasted in the ash, if possible, are suggestive of the turf. There are odd and lovely passages in literature in reference to the potato baked in the ash, and perhaps eaten with nothing but a sprinkle of salt and plenty of milk, something to satisfy both the most primitive taste and also that of the epicure. It is also a highly virtuous dish in the light of the best we know about how we should eat. The delicious flavors in it get just enough condensed by this treatment to make it the real dainty it has sometimes been given the credit of being.

A potato soup made with a bacon base—Irish bacon if you have it—and then well sprinkled with chives, cut fine, has wonderfully gratifying qualities. It is nearly related to a potato chowder made of tried old salt pork, layers of sliced onions and potatoes, cooked gently in water and with a generous addition of milk, a little pepper and salt and finally served with Boston crackers.

A one person portion which may be multiplied to suit may be made as follows: Pare off any smoked edges from a slice of bacon and with the searers cut it into bits. Cook gently till crisp, starting it in a cold pan and stirring it all the time after the fat starts out. Take up a crisp bit for a salad or sandwich, stir the scant tablespoon of flour, cool and add a cup of milk, stir over the fire till thick, and then add from one-half cup to a cup of hot mashed potato. Cook for a few minutes, having added a tablespoon or two of finely cut chives.

Trio of Young Matrons Giving Their Talents to Matters Altruistic

BY NANCY R.

There's a certain trio of good looking and fashionable young matrons who are more than doing their share in matters altruistic in this windy burg of ours.

Walter Paepcke (Miss Elizabeth Shreve Badger (Dodo Winchell), and Mrs. Philip Maher (Miss Elizabeth Shreve Badger) are the three, and each one of them has been efficient in several of our philanthropic organizations.

As one of Chicago's older leaders, Mrs. Paepcke and Mrs. Badger are representing the Public School Art society at the Coliseum in May, part of the job being the designing of costumes for the woman's band that will play each day of the fair, and still another part involving the setting of tables for Field's exhibit.

All three of these young women are skilled hostesses, noted for the gay and original table arrangements used in their own homes; all three of them have within the last few years contributed greatly to the success of the Public School Art society's theater by arranging colorful and unique backdrops for the plays.

Mrs. Maher and Mrs. Paepcke are at present working hard on color schemes and decorations plans for the restaurant that is to help swell the fund for the Living Hospital—that as yet unnamed luncheon place that is causing such an interest among our beau monde.

The Paepckes, as has been chronicled, have taken the John A. Carpenter house on Rush street, but I hear they are planning to be away most of the summer. While Mrs. Paepcke goes out west in June, joining her mother, Mrs. William A. Nitz, at Lake Park, Mrs. Paepcke will probably "back" it in Lake Forest.

Approach the wild and woolly west, the enthusiastic group of Chicagoites who go each year to Diamond G ranch, a really out of door vacation are getting together up at "the Drake" grove on the second of April, by a roundup and elk steak fry—an affair that is promised as "very informally informal."

Day's News in Society
Mrs. E. L. Brashears and Miss Mary-Jane Beckwith are arranging a group of dances for the Army and Navy club's seventh annual military ball at the Congress hotel on Saturday evening, March 26. The pageant will interpret the progress and history of the dance in the United States over a period of 500 years. Miss Virlean Richey is to give an Indian dance, representative of 1620, and the 1776 period will be shown with a Virginia reel in which Miss Margaret Quinn, Mrs. Calvin Smith, Jeanette Reynolds, Miss Corinne McVey, Miss Mary Gardner, Houston Gray, Geoffrey Garstin, and Howard Wolf will appear. Miss Dorothy Hoy and Bonner Miller are to dance a polka for 1861, and Miss Edna Shepard and Glimmer Black are to do a Merry Widow waltz for the first decade of this century. The fox trot, the favorite ballroom amusement of 1917, is to be done by Mrs. Richard Fleming, Emily Marshall and Van Klee, and Miss Ellen McGuire and Bonner Miller are to dance the modern black bottom. The dress rehearsal is to be held on March 23 at the Congress.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kiser of New York City, formerly of Chicago, gave a dinner party at the Bath and Tennis club at Palm Beach, Fla., on Monday evening. There were 40 guests for the affair. Mrs. Kiser recently won first prize for her costume at the Everglades costume ball, and has been active and popular during her stay. She was formerly Miss Mary Buford Pierce, daughter of Mrs. Edward B. Pierce, of the Alexander H. Revell firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Fargo of 17 East Madison street is visiting her family in Boston, Mass. She is to return in about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Burton of New York have sailed for a European tour.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Monroe of 414 East Elm street, and Mrs. William Calhoun, who has been visiting in Chicago since early this year, are to sail on Saturday for Europe for a stay of several months. Mrs. Calhoun is to continue across the continent after leaving the Monroes, to return to visiting where she has made her residence for several years.

Five Chicago Men Are in Play of Haresfoot Club
The cast of "Meet the Prince," the annual production of the Haresfoot club of the University of Wisconsin, which is to appear at a matinee on an evening performance at the eighth street theater on Saturday, March 2, includes five Chicago men. Freytag is to be a member of the male chorus and Donald White, Robert Morse, Vernon Hamel, and Charles Clendenen are to do specialty ensemble acts.

Follies Dancer and Advertising Man Wed
New York, March 16.—(AP)—Another "Follies" romance came to light today when announcement was made of the marriage, at "the little church around the corner," of Dorothy Constance Mason, dancer in Ziegfeld's Follies, to Lawrence Preston Walton, member of an old Maryland family. The bride's home was in Rochester and the groom lives in Washington, where he is in the advertising business.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

WOMAN'S AND MISS DRESS.
The platted sections in this one piece dress are cut separately, platted, and set in. These platts must be basted from top to bottom and the basting left in until the dress is finished. A broad band of braid has been used to finish the "V" shaped neck. The dress is to be slipped on over the head, the opening being made where the left side of the vest fastens to the dress.

The pattern, No. 697, comes in sizes 16, 18, and 20 years and 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, and 34 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards of 40 or 44 inch material.

NEW-YORK SOCIETY

New York, March 16.—[Special].—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Millard, who arrived on the Leviathan, are at the Ritz-Carlton before going to Washington. Mr. Millard is attached to the American embassy at Berlin.

Sir Hugh and Lady Denison of the Plaza will give a farewell dinner party for twelve guests at the hotel on Thursday for Sir Alexander MacCormick, M. D., Lady MacCormick, and Miss MacCormick of Australia, who will sail Friday night on the Aquitania.

Mrs. T. Markoe Robertson, Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, and Mrs. John Elliott were among the luncheon guests of Mrs. Anthony J. Drezel Biddle at the Ritz Tower today.

500 Expected to Attend Woman's Fair Luncheon

The general committee of the Woman's World fair is to meet for luncheon at the Casino on next Thursday at 1 o'clock. About 500 women are expected to be present. Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the board of directors, is to preside at the speakers' table, and there will be a number of short talks about the fair, which is to be held from May 19 to May 27 at the Coliseum. Mrs. Jules Bloch of 18 East Elm street has been appointed by Count Farry de Fontenay, French consul, to be chairman of the committee in charge of the French booth at the fair. Mrs. Harry J. Patten and Countess de Fontenay are to be honorary chairmen.

This Husband Is the World's Champion Applauder Eater

BY DORIS BLAKE.

All kind of households as you too, have observed, go into the making of the married world. Of the absence, the presence and the division of applause in them we were reminded recently by a bored evening experience. This wife obviously had read, misquoted and digested with the advice about feeding the brute great globe of flattery with or without provocation. He, it so obviously appeared, had never heard that a word of appreciation from the male is relished by the little woman. So the applause during an interminably dull evening was hogged by the gentleman.

Perhaps there is something heroic about a woman who can keep on spooning sugar down a man's throat though he never once turns the bowl toward her. But it leaves an outsider in a mental condition bordering on a lunatic desire to take up the nearest brick and see if the man has any impressive susceptibilities at all. Your private opinion is that nothing could dent the egotistic head. A man who can soak up flattery without ever turning the trick of the least appreciation of his better half is simply zero in household pets. A poodle will wag its tail delightedly if you pat it appreciatively and a cat will purr with gratitude.

Husbands, by and large, are stingier with applause than wives. Perhaps this is because, as already hinted, no ten matrimonial commandments are issued without mention of this deadly poison of unappreciated flattery. Men, in their pursuit of the sports and stock market columns overlook the how to be happy though married advice. They would never admit they were stung by flattery. And if they were accused of nonappreciation of their wife's accomplishments they would think the accuser crazy. Yet their own appetites for the spoken words of approval are extraordinarily hearty, if you'll notice.

Call it applause or call it applause, it is the rare man and wife who aren't better off for heaping spoonful of it, weekly. But neither should play the hog if the prescription is to be followed out successfully.

Dr. George A. Dorsey, eminent psychologist, said: "If you are going to try to hog the game, take everything and give nothing, life will develop into one long cat fight."

And "hogging" may apply to other things that matter a great deal in marriage.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Girl Worries Him.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going out with a girl for some time. We both love each other, but some boy friends call me a 'chump,' which means that she is making a fool out of me. I've been on the lookout and find that she does certain things to make them think this of me. I warn her and she apologizes, but she does the same things again. Really advise, Vince."

"If 'making a fool out of you' means she has other beaux—and I have a large sized suspicion that's it—your friends are unjust in their criticism, as she's exercising a natural prerogative, Vince."

"I am a railroad ticket agent and yesterday was asked by a young miss of about nine for 'a half fare to Rock Island.' The fare is ninety-nine cents and as she tendered me a dollar bill I gave her a penny change. She looked first at the penny, then at me, and at length inquired what the fare was and I told her ninety-nine cents. She smiled an engaging smile, then said: 'It used to be ninety-eight—but I don't care.'"

Dickie's mother was ill for several days and daddy had to do the cooking. Being far from versatile in the culinary line, daddy poured eggs were served at dinner every meal. Finally, one day, as daddy went to the ice box and took out a box of eggs, Dickie sighed: 'Doodness,' said the little fellow earnestly. 'I bet those poor eggs are getting awful tired of us.' E. C. Junior, our six year old, heard his father and me speaking of a couple of newweds of our acquaintance. Next day, while out walking, he and I passed the groom. "Mother," said Junior, "isn't that the man that just got wedded?" A. V.

Women's Easier Hygiene

Discards like tissue—No laundry

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

THAT one can be fresh and charming, wear lightest gowns and frocks, dance or motor for hours, and yet be under the most trying of hygienic handicaps, is a fact most women know today.

Instead of old-time sanitary pads, 8 in 10 better class women today use Kotex.

Discards easily at times. Thus no laundry. Absorbs 5 times as effectively as ordinary cotton pads. Hence no fear of embarrassment. Deodorizes instantly. And this ends all danger of offense.

Obtain at any store, without embarrassment or hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents.

Obtain today. Once you try it, you'll never again risk the fear of old days. Be sure you get the genuine Kotex; there is no other like it.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—Fashion continues to give us all chiffon air marks. Printed chiffons for afternoons are more than ever stressed and unpatterned chiffon for evening frocks leads every other fabric.

Practically all the French couturiers show the same preference for wispy little frocks in this medium for evening wear. Some of them continue to rival the draperies usually associated with this delicate type of dress. There are, however, some changes. Chanel, for instance, this season has abandoned her cherished draperies in favor of using bolero modes accompanied by tiered skirts.

Now as to the colors stressed for these predominating evening creations. You all remember how good the black chiffon evening frock proved during the entire season, last summer. Today there is no lessened emphasis on this ebony note. Both black chiffon and black lace gowns are exploited by many leading French houses. And though these, of course, are rivaled by the chiffons in our favorite pastel tones, there is no gainsaying the supreme chic of black.

In spite of all this eloquence, however, the chiffon frock shown above has chosen for its tone a glorious sapphire blue. And who could say it may? The bodice is composed of large hand made tucks with matching lace showing under each tuck. A wider remon of the same lace is set in at the bottom of the finely plaited skirt as to give it a little flare.

Meeting of D. A. R.
The Chicago chapter of the D. A. R. is to meet at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon at Reel hall in the Fine Arts building. The young women's committee is to give the program under the direction of Mrs. Philip L. Mathison.

Junior, our six year old, heard his father and me speaking of a couple of newweds of our acquaintance. Next day, while out walking, he and I passed the groom. "Mother," said Junior, "isn't that the man that just got wedded?" A. V.

Women's Easier Hygiene
Discards like tissue—No laundry
By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

THAT one can be fresh and charming, wear lightest gowns and frocks, dance or motor for hours, and yet be under the most trying of hygienic handicaps, is a fact most women know today.

Instead of old-time sanitary pads, 8 in 10 better class women today use Kotex.

Discards easily at times. Thus no laundry. Absorbs 5 times as effectively as ordinary cotton pads. Hence no fear of embarrassment. Deodorizes instantly. And this ends all danger of offense.

Obtain at any store, without embarrassment or hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents.

Obtain today. Once you try it, you'll never again risk the fear of old days. Be sure you get the genuine Kotex; there is no other like it.

SEES COLLEGE SEEKING CURE FOR SUICIDES

Establishment of mental hygiene units in state universities, in an effort to discover the cause and eventually the cure of the wave of suicide among college and high school students, was forecast yesterday by Miss Helen L. Morrey, executive secretary of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene.

A committee named to promote the movement includes Dr. Edwin Elster, chairman; Dr. Ralph Hamill and Dr. Lewis J. Pollock of the school of medicine of Northwestern University; Prof. John Ernest W. Burgess of the University of Chicago; Dr. John Pavill of Rush Medical College; and Miss Mary Erickson.

Efforts to meet the need for these units already are in progress, Miss Mysek stated, at the universities of Minnesota, Vermont, and Kansas, Vassar College, Dartmouth, Smith, Cornell, Washington, Hill school, and Culver Military Academy.

When the commissioners return and confer with the two board members who did not make the trip an announcement as to what features of the European museums will be included in the projected industrial museum, to be housed in the renovated Fine Arts building in Jackson park, will be made.

George T. Donoghue, superintendent for the south park board, returned to Chicago yesterday after a month's study of industrial museums in Europe. President Edward J. Kelly and commissioners John Bain and Louis J. Behan, who also made the trip, are due in Chicago next week.

When the commissioners return and confer with the two board members who did not make the trip an announcement as to what features of the European museums will be included in the projected industrial museum, to be housed in the renovated Fine Arts building in Jackson park, will be made.

Geo. McArthur, Architect, Dies in Hot Springs, Ark.

George McArthur, who, during four years with the firm of Holabird & Roche, architects, superintended the construction of the Chicago temple, died Sunday at Hot Springs, Ark., where he had gone to play golf. He was 36 years old. His death came as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was the son of Mrs. Mary McArthur of 1250 Howard avenue, who has been visiting in Cuba and is expected to arrive in Chicago tomorrow. Mr. McArthur also is survived by three brothers and a sister. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday from the home to St. Gertrude's church. Burial will be at Rosehill cemetery.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Sunshine, a new variety of sweet corn, has been developed in North Dakota. Sunshine is a cross between Bantam, the outstanding popular variety in this country, and Gilt's Early Market. The cross was first made about seven or eight years ago at the agricultural experiment station in Fargo, N. D. Through careful work plant breeders now have a variety with ears from six to eight inches long, yellow in color, though slightly brighter than some strains of Golden Bantam. Typical ears carry twelve rows of kernels.

A valuable characteristic of the new variety is that the ears do not pass the usable stage as soon as the Golden Bantam, reaching the roasting ear stage from three to ten days before the old variety. Golden Bantam, Fargo horticulturists consider the table qualities of Sunshine to be "almost equal to Golden Bantam. Table quality is a matter of individual preference, hence we find some who think it much better, others who consider it inferior to Golden Bantam."

Sunshine ears come out on five and a half foot stalks about a foot above the ground, while Golden Bantam usually grows a little taller and carries its ears higher in North Dakota.

These figures indicate the growing popularity of Sunshine: There was only one acre of this variety in 1923, and it is estimated that this year variety they will plant 2,500 acres, expected to be worth $100,000.

The Fargo station reports that 82 per cent of the growers who tested the new sweet corn last year in all corn states and Canada call it the best early variety they have grown, and 5 per cent reported it equal to their best.

"GRAPE JUICE" UNDOES 24 U. S. SEA STUDENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, March 16.—How the globe circling American co-educational university aboard the steamship Ryndam, which, although afloat, was meant to be strictly dry, got wet, one might say, at Granada, Spain, has leaked out in Paris.

Landing at Malaga, the entire faculty and student body got into auto cars to visit the Alhambra. The party's trip ended ahead to Granada and ordered 500 lunches. The solicitous inn keeper, knowing the tastes of the Americans he had seen, had a quart bottle of good local vintage set at each table.

"Good heavens," exclaimed the steward when he arrived in the van guard. "Don't you know this party is home dry?"

"Very simple, sir," spoke up the maître d'hôtel, who once worked in the Holland House of New York. He got a package of stickers used by a local concern in bottling grape juice for American consumption. "This beverage is non-alcoholic," they read. It was reliably reported, that two dozen members of the party had to be sent back to port in a special car.

OFFER LAWSONIA TO PRESIDENT AS A SUMMER HOME

Pond, Du Lac, Wis., March 16.—(Special.)—Lawsonia, the Green Lake summer estate of the late Victor E. Lawson, Chicago publisher, will be offered to President Coolidge as a presidential vacation spot in the event that the President should decide to spend his annual outing in Wisconsin. The Lawsonia offer includes the exclusive use of the entire estate of 1,100 acres together with the buildings and the 18 hole golf course. The invitation will be extended through former Senator Irvin E. Lenroot.

Doug and Mary Offer Home.
Washington, D. C., March 16.—(Special.)—President Coolidge today was offered the Beverly Hills home of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford for the summer White House. The invitation to spend the summer in California was tendered to the President by Representative Fredericks (Rep., Cal.).

Other callers urged the President to spend his vacation in the Minnesota lake region. Representative Lampert (Rep., Wis.) offered an estate on Lake Winnebago owned by E. J. Farney. Senator Nye (Rep., N. D.) advised the President to go to the Minnesota lake region.
